150 ChatGPT Prompts for Etsy Sellers

A system that uses prompts to write listings that rank, descriptions that convert, and a shop that grows.

Front Matter — The System & 6-Phase Workflow

The System Behind the Prompts

Most Etsy prompt packs give you a list of templates. You open them, copy-paste a few, feel clever for 20 minutes, and your listings still don't sell.

This is different.

This pack is a system. The prompts are the engine. The 6-phase workflow below is what makes them actually work. If you use the prompts without following the workflow, you'll get the same mediocre results you get from any other pack. If you use both, you'll write a complete Etsy listing in 5 minutes — and watch it rank.

Why This Exists (And Why It Beats "Just 150 Prompts")

Three problems kill most Etsy listings:

1. The listing takes forever to write — 30-45 minutes per listing, and you're never sure if it's right.
2. It sounds like a robot wrote it — generic, full of keywords, doesn't sound like you.
3. It doesn't sell — gets views, even some favorites, but no orders. You don't know why.

This pack solves each:

- Speed: Use the prompts in sequence (Phase 1 → 6) and you write a full listing in 5 minutes.
- Voice: Section 02 has prompts that lock in your brand voice ONCE, then every description you generate after uses it.
- Diagnosis: Section 09 has prompts that figure out WHY a listing isn't selling — and tells you exactly what to change.

The number 150 is honest. There are 150 prompts. But the value isn't the count — it's the system.

The 6-Phase Etsy Listing Workflow

Follow this sequence every time you list a new product. Total time: ~5 minutes once you've run it a few times.

Phase 1: Validate (Before You Make the Product)

Time: 5-10 minutes Prompts to use: Section 08 (P08-001, P08-014, P08-015)

Before you make anything, run the validation prompt. Is this product worth building? What's the demand signal? Will it make money?

Why this phase matters: Most Etsy sellers make products first, then try to find buyers. Flip it. Validate demand, then build what buyers already want.

Output: A "Build / Pivot / Skip" verdict with 3 reasons.

Phase 2: Research & Lock Your Voice

Time: 3 minutes Prompts to use: Section 08 (P08-002, P08-004) — once

Run these two prompts ONCE for your shop:

- Competitor deep-dive (P08-004): Pick your top 3 competitors. Run the prompt. Save the output as your "competitor playbook."
- Brand voice lock (manual): Answer this for yourself: "My shop sounds like..." (e.g., "a calm friend who's good at [X]"). Paste it into a "voice reference" doc.

Why this phase matters: Every prompt that generates copy for you will sound generic unless you've defined your voice. Do this once, reuse forever.

Output: A voice reference doc. Reuse it by pasting it into every prompt's [brackets].

Phase 3: Write the Listing (The Core 5 Minutes)

Time: 5 minutes Prompts to use: Section 01 (titles), Section 02 (descriptions), Section 03 (tags)

Run these in sequence:

1. P01-001 → P01-003: Generate 3-5 title options. Pick the best, paste back into the prompt for refinement.
2. P02-001: Generate the full 5-section description. Paste your voice reference + brand info into the brackets.
3. P03-001 + P03-003: Generate 13 tags. Then generate 13 long-tail variants. Pick the 13 strongest.

Why this phase matters: This is the actual listing. Do it in one focused session — don't spread it across days. The momentum of running prompts 1, 2, 3 back-to-back is what makes this fast.

Output: A complete draft listing ready for photos.

Phase 4: Photos

Time: 30-90 minutes (the longest phase) Prompts to use: Section 07 (P07-001, P07-002, P07-010)

Before you shoot, run the shot list and lifestyle scene prompts. You'll walk into the shoot with a plan instead of improvising 10 angles.

Why this phase matters: Photos are the #1 conversion lever. A perfect listing with bad photos won't sell. A mediocre listing with great photos will.

Output: 10 product photos + alt-text for each.

Phase 5: Launch & Distribute

Time: 15 minutes Prompts to use: Section 05 (P05-002 for Pinterest, P05-001 for Instagram)

After the listing goes live:

- Pinterest: Run P05-002 to generate a pin description. Create 3-5 pin variations.
- Instagram: Run P05-001 to write a product showcase caption.

- Optional: Run P05-003 to script a 15-30 second Reel/TikTok.

Why this phase matters: Etsy traffic is half Etsy search, half external (Pinterest, Instagram, TikTok). Don't just list — push.

Output: 1 Pinterest pin + 1 IG post + (optional) 1 Reel script.

Phase 6: Diagnose & Iterate (Weekly, 10 Minutes)

Time: 10 minutes per week Prompts to use: Section 09 (P09-001, P09-013, P09-014)

Every week, look at Etsy Stats. Find your worst-performing listing. Run the diagnosis prompt. Fix the ONE thing the prompt tells you to fix.

Why this phase matters: Etsy sellers who grow treat their shop like a portfolio — iterate weekly. Sellers who stall post and pray.

Output: A weekly improvement action. Do it. Repeat next week.

How to Use Each Prompt

Every prompt in this pack follows the same format:

1. Prompt ID (e.g., P01-001) — find it fast.
2. "Use when" line — tells you when to reach for it.
3. Copy-paste block — the actual prompt text.
4. [BRACKETS] — fill these in for your product. Replace each `[bracket]` with your specific info.
5. Bullets inside the prompt — these are constraints. ChatGPT will follow them. Don't delete them.

Pro tips:

- Run prompts in ChatGPT (free tier works), Claude, or any LLM.
- For best results, paste your "voice reference" doc into EVERY prompt that generates copy. This keeps your voice consistent.
- If the first output is bad, run it again with "Make it [X] more" or "Try again, but [Y]."
- Don't paste the whole pack into ChatGPT. Use one prompt at a time.

What's Different About 2026

If you bought an Etsy prompt pack in 2023 or 2024, half of it is outdated. Etsy's algorithm changed significantly in 2026. This pack accounts for:

- LLM-based search ranking. Etsy now uses LLMs to match search intent to listings — not just keyword matching. Section 09 (P09-004) has prompts that write titles for this new reality.
- AI disclosure requirements. Etsy's October 2026 AI policy requires disclosure language for AI-assisted listings. Section 09 (P09-005) has compliant templates.
- Mobile-first ranking. 44.5% of Etsy sales are now mobile. Section 01 has prompts that write titles rendering well on a 6-inch screen.
- ChatGPT referral traffic. 20% of Etsy's referral traffic now comes from ChatGPT. Section 09 (P09-004) has prompts that optimize for AI agents.
- Customer experience as a ranking factor. Response time, on-time shipping rate, and review quality now affect search rank. Section 04 has prompts that handle this gracefully.

Most other prompt packs were written before these changes. This one wasn't.

Quick-Start: Your First Listing in 30 Minutes

If you have a product ready to list, here's the fastest possible start:

1. Open Section 02, prompt P02-001. Paste your product description. Generate the 5-section description. (3 min)
2. Open Section 01, prompt P01-001. Paste the same product info. Generate 5 title options. Pick one. (2 min)
3. Open Section 03, prompt P03-001. Generate 13 tags. Refine with P03-003 for long-tail. (2 min)
4. Open Section 07, prompt P07-001. Generate a 10-shot photo list. Shoot 5 of them today. (20 min)

5. Open Section 05, prompt P05-002. Generate a Pinterest pin description. (1 min)
6. List on Etsy + post the pin. (2 min)

Total: ~30 minutes for a complete listing with photos queued. Compare that to the 30-45 minutes you usually spend just on the listing copy alone.

The One Rule

Use the system, not just the prompts.

The prompts are tools. The 6-phase workflow is the craft. Run the workflow every time and the prompts become powerful. Skip the workflow and the prompts are just another list you'll forget in a week.

Now go sell something.

Section 01 — Listing Titles That Rank (15 prompts)

Etsy titles max out at 140 characters. Etsy's search engine (called "Etsy Search" or "Marmalead-style" ranking) weights the first few words the heaviest, then scans for keywords across the rest. These prompts force ChatGPT to write titles that earn clicks AND rank.

P01-001 — Long-Tail Keyword Title Builder

Use when: You have a product and need a title that hits the exact phrase buyers search.

You are an Etsy SEO specialist. Write 5 listing titles for my product.

Product: [PASTE your product description or photo description]
Target buyer: [e.g., new mom, remote worker, dog owner, teacher]
Top 3 keywords I want to rank for: [keyword 1, keyword 2, keyword 3]

Constraints:
- 140 characters max each (count and report)
- Front-load the strongest keyword in the first 40 characters
- Use natural phrasing a human would type, not keyword stuffing
- Include one long-tail phrase (3+ words) per title
- End with a benefit or occasion word (gift, wedding, personalized, custom)

Return titles as a numbered list with character count for each.

P01-002 — Title Rewrite From a Competitor's Top-Seller

Use when: You see a competitor ranking well and want to write a similar-but-better title.

Here's the title of a top-ranking Etsy listing:
"[PASTE competitor title here]"

My product is similar but differs in: [e.g., material, color, size, personalization, pri ce point].

Write 5 alternative titles that:
- Target the same primary keyword but use different secondary keywords
- Highlight my differentiator in the first 60 characters
- Avoid copying the exact phrase structure (no plagiarism risk)
- Stay under 140 characters

For each, briefly note which competitor title it's differentiated from.

P01-003 — Seasonal / Occasion Title Generator

Use when: Q4, Valentine’s, Mother’s Day, weddings, Christmas, back-to-school, etc.

My Etsy product: [PASTE product or short description]
Upcoming season / occasion: [e.g., Christmas 2026, Valentine's Day, Teacher Appreciation Week]

Write 5 titles that:
- Include the occasion keyword (e.g., "gift for teacher", "stocking stuffer")
- Still rank for evergreen search terms (so the listing sells year-round too)
- Use seasonal phrasing buyers actually search: "Christmas gift", "holiday hostess", "Secret Santa"
- Under 140 characters

After the titles, list 3 tags I should pair with each title to capture both seasonal and evergreen traffic.

P01-004 — Title for a Product With Multiple Use Cases

Use when: Your product works for several audiences (gift + self-use + occasion).

Product: [PASTE description]
Possible use cases: [e.g., wedding favor, baby shower decor, housewarming gift, desk accessory]

Write 3 different 140-character titles, each one anchoring a DIFFERENT primary use case in the first 40 characters. For example, Title A leads with "wedding favor", Title B leads with "baby shower", Title C leads with "housewarming".

This lets me A/B test which use case converts best in my niche.

P01-005 — Title That Beats Etsy's "Stuffing" Penalty

Use when: You’re tempted to repeat keywords and need a clean, natural title.

Draft title I have: "[PASTE your current title]"

Etsy’s algorithm de-duplicates and penalizes keyword stuffing. Rewrite it so:
- Each major word appears only once unless grammatically required
- The same idea isn't repeated in different words (no "handmade - hand crafted - artisan ")
- The flow still sounds like a real human describing the item
- Strongest keyword stays in the first 40 characters
- 140 characters max

Return 3 versions: minimal, balanced, and keyword-rich (in case my niche rewards density ).

P01-006 — Personalized / Custom Product Title

Use when: You sell made-to-order items and the title needs to convey customization.

Product: [PASTE]
What buyers can customize: [e.g., name, date, color, monogram, photo]

Write 5 titles that:
- Include "personalized", "custom", or "monogrammed" in the first 60 characters (these a re high-intent keywords)
- Describe the product clearly without the customization (so the photo/description sells  the customization)
- Under 140 characters
- Include a gift-occasion angle: wedding, baby, birthday, anniversary, etc.

After the titles, suggest 3 supporting tags for each.

P01-007 — Title for a Low-Competition Long-Tail Niche

Use when: You sell something unusual and want to own a tiny niche instead of fighting giants.

My product: [PASTE]
My niche angle: [e.g., "for left-handed people", "for IT managers", "for sourdough baker s", "for book club hosts"]

Write 5 titles that:
- Lead with the niche angle (so I rank #1 for that specific search)
- Still include 1-2 broader keywords so I capture adjacent traffic
- Sound specific enough that the right buyer self-identifies
- 140 characters max

For each, estimate the monthly Etsy search volume for the lead keyword using your best g uess (Low / Medium / High).

P01-008 — Title A/B Test Variants

Use when: You have one title and want to test variations scientifically.

Current title: "[PASTE]"

Generate 6 alternative titles for A/B testing:
- 2 lead with the product TYPE (e.g., "Wooden cutting board...")
- 2 lead with the BUYER (e.g., "Gift for chef...")
- 2 lead with an OCCASION (e.g., "Housewarming gift...")

All under 140 characters. For each variant, state the hypothesis: which Etsy search inte nt does it target, and why a buyer would click it over the original.

P01-009 — Title When You Have Zero Sales / No Traffic

Use when: Your listing is buried and you suspect the title is the problem.

Listing details:
- Product: [PASTE]
- Current title: [PASTE]
- Current tags: [PASTE 13 tags]
- Traffic: [e.g., 0 visits/week, 50 visits/week]

Diagnose what's likely wrong with my current title in 3 bullets. Then write 5 replacemen t titles that:
- Fix each diagnosis you identified
- Are designed for Etsy's 2026 search algorithm (relevance + click-through + conversion history)
- Under 140 characters each

End with one bold recommendation: which title to test first and why.

P01-010 — Title for a Product Where You Don't Know the Buyer

Use when: You made something cool but aren't sure who'd search for it.

Material / style: [e.g., minimalist, boho, modern, rustic]
Price point: $[X]

I'm not sure who the buyer is. Give me 5 different titles, each one targeting a DISTINCT buyer persona:
- Title A: gift buyer
- Title B: self-purchase buyer
- Title C: occasion buyer (specify the best occasion)
- Title D: niche hobbyist buyer
- Title E: corporate / bulk buyer

For each, name the persona in one sentence.

P01-011 — Title That Translates a Physical Photo to Search Language

Use when: Your product is visual and hard to describe in keywords.

[Describe what you see: e.g., "A small ceramic planter, sage green with a matte finish, sitting on a wooden shelf next to a trailing pothos plant. The planter is about 4 inches tall."]

I need Etsy buyers who would type text — not people browsing photos — to find this. Tran slate the visual into 5 search-friendly titles:
- 140 characters max
- Front-load the object type ("ceramic planter", "small plant pot")
- Include style descriptors ("minimalist", "modern", "boho") only if they match real sea rch behavior
- Avoid flowery language that no one searches

Note: Buyers typing "minimalist sage ceramic planter" should land on this listing.

P01-012 — Bulk Title Generator (Whole Shop Refresh)

Use when: You have 20+ listings and want to refresh all titles fast.

Here are my current Etsy listings, one per line:
[PASTE list of product names + 1-line descriptions]

For each, write a new 140-character title optimized for:
- Front-loaded primary keyword
- Natural phrasing (no stuffing)
- A clear hook in the last 30 characters

Return as a table: | # | Old title | New title | Why this title ranks |

Cap at 30 listings per request (call me back for the next batch).

P01-013 — Title That Pairs With Etsy Ads

Use when: You're paying for Etsy Ads and need a title that converts cold traffic.

Product: [PASTE]
My Etsy Ads daily budget: $[X]
Average CPC in my niche: $[Y]

Etsy Ads traffic is cold — the buyer hasn't seen my shop before, they typed a search ter m and clicked an ad. Write 3 titles that:
- Match the EXACT phrasing Etsy Ads buyers use (more literal, less creative)
- Front-load the keyword I'm bidding on: [keyword]
- Include a trust / quality signal in the last 30 characters (e.g., "handmade", "persona lized", "premium")
- 140 characters max

For each, predict click-through rate vs. my current title (better / same / worse) and wh y.

P01-014 — Title Optimized for Etsy's "Related Searches"

Use when: You want to capture traffic from Etsy's "Related searches" footer.

Primary keyword I want to rank for: [keyword]
My current title: [PASTE]

Etsy shows "Related searches" at the bottom of search results. Buyers click these. Rewrite my title so it:
- Includes 2-3 phrases that Etsy would auto-suggest as related searches (ask me to suggest 10 related search phrases first if unsure)
- Stays natural — title must still read like a human description
- 140 characters max

First, list 10 likely "Related searches" phrases for my primary keyword. Then write 3 titles incorporating the best ones.

P01-015 — Title for Repositioning a Product to a New Niche

Use when: A product isn’t selling to your current audience; you want to reframe it.

Product that isn’t selling: [PASTE]
Current audience I tried: [e.g., women 25-40, home decor buyers]
New audience I want to try: [e.g., corporate gifting, teachers, dog owners, college students]

Write 5 titles that reposition this product to the new audience:
- New audience’s language and search behavior (not just renaming the product)
- Keep all physical details accurate (don’t lie about what the product is)
- 140 characters max

For each title, write 1 sentence on why the new audience would click instead of scroll past.

Section 02 — Descriptions That Convert (20 prompts)

Etsy descriptions aren’t Amazon bullet points. They build trust, handle objections, and quietly stuff long-tail keywords without sounding like a robot. These prompts give you a 5-section framework: Hook → Story → Specs → Care → CTA.

P02-001 — Full Description From Scratch (5-Section Framework)

Use when: You have a new product and need a complete description today.

Product: [PASTE short description or photo details]
Target buyer: [e.g., new mom, remote worker, gift buyer]
Price: $[X]

Write an Etsy description in this exact 5-section structure:

1. Hook (1-2 sentences): The first line a buyer reads in search results preview. Mak e it emotional, not generic. Lead with the benefit or feeling, not the product specs.

2. The Story (1 paragraph, 4-6 sentences): Why this product exists. Who makes it. Wh at problem it solves. Make me care.

3. What's Included / Specs (bulleted list):
   - Materials
   - Dimensions
   - Color options
   - Personalization details (if any)
   - Processing / shipping time
   - Where it's made

4. Care Instructions (3-5 bullets): Specific, actionable, in the buyer's language.

5. Soft CTA (1-2 sentences): Invite them to message you with questions. Don't hard-s ell.

Naturally include these keywords throughout (don't force): [list 5-8 keywords]
Length: 250-400 words total.

P02-002 — Rewrite a Flat / Boring Description

Use when: You have a description but it reads like a spec sheet.

Current description:
"[PASTE]"

Rewrite it so it:
- Opens with an emotional hook (not "This beautiful handcrafted...")
- Sounds like a human wrote it, not a template
- Includes the same specs but as part of the story
- Adds 1-2 trust signals (warranty, returns, materials, etc.)
- Ends with a soft CTA

Keep length similar (within 50 words of original) unless the original was under 150 word s.

P02-003 — Description for a Personalized / Custom Product

Use when: Buyers need to know exactly what to type in the personalization box.

What buyer customizes: [e.g., name, date, 2 lines of text, photo, color choice]

Write a description with a dedicated section called "How to Personalize" that:
- Tells the buyer EXACTLY what to type in the personalization field
- Shows character / word limits
- Gives 3 example personalization inputs (so they can copy the format)
- Warns about emojis / special characters (if applicable)

Rest of description follows the standard 5-section framework.

P02-004 — Description That Handles the "Why Is It So Expensive?" Objection

Use when: Your price is higher than mass-produced alternatives.

Product: [PASTE]
Price: $[X]
Common mass-produced alternative price: $[Y cheaper]

Write a description section (3-5 sentences) that justifies the price WITHOUT apologizing
. Address:
- Material quality / why your material beats the alternative
- Time / craftsmanship (be specific — hours, not "lots of love")
- What breaks / fails in the cheap version
- Lifetime / warranty / repair policy

Tone: confident, not defensive. Don't trash the competitor.

P02-005 — Description for a Digital Product on Etsy

Use when: Selling printables, SVGs, templates, prompt packs, etc.

Digital product: [PASTE]
What's delivered: [e.g., 5 PDF files, 1 ZIP, instant download]
What buyer can do with it: [e.g., print at home, edit in Canva, use commercially up to 5 0 times]

Write a description with these sections:
1. What you get (bullet list of file types + sizes + quantities)
2. How to use it (2-3 steps)
3. License terms (plain English, not legalese)
4. Refund policy (Etsy digital products are non-refundable — say so kindly)
5. Need help? (CTA to message)

Add 1-2 keyword phrases naturally. Keep total under 250 words — digital buyers skim.

P02-006 — Description That Reads as Gift-Ready

Use when: Your product is bought primarily as a gift.

Product: [PASTE]
Gift occasions you fit: [e.g., wedding, birthday, Mother's Day, retirement, housewarming

Write a description section that:
- Positions the product as "the kind of gift that gets remembered"
- Names 3 specific occasions with one tailored sentence each
- Mentions gift wrapping / ready-to-give packaging if you offer it
- Closes with a phrase that solves the buyer's "will they love it?" anxiety

Length: 150-200 words. Tone: warm, not salesy.

P02-007 — Description for a Product You Make in Batches

Use when: You want to mention scale (e.g., "made in small batches") without sounding mass-produced.

Product: [PASTE]
How it's made: [e.g., "I make 20 of these per week in my home studio", "Made to order, 3
-day turnaround", "Limited run of 50"]

Write 3 versions of an "About the Maker / Process" paragraph that:
- Communicates care and craft
- Acknowledges production reality without killing the "handmade" feel
- Each version uses a different angle: scarcity, quality control, customer touchpoint

Then recommend which version fits my brand voice: [e.g., cozy artisan, modern minimalist
, luxury, playful].

P02-008 — Description for a Product With Confusing Sizing / Fit

Use when: You get DMs like "what size should I get?"

Product: [PASTE with sizing detail]
Sizing confusion source: [e.g., "runs small", "Asian sizing", "fits two ways", "choose f rom 5 sizes"]

Write a "Sizing & Fit" section that:
- Opens with one sentence telling the buyer exactly which size to pick (decision shortcu t)
- Includes a sizing chart as plain text (so it shows up in search snippet)
- Gives 2 examples: "If you're 5'4" and 130 lbs, choose Medium"
- Addresses the #1 most-asked sizing question

End with: "Still unsure? Message me — I'll pick the right size for you."

P02-009 — Description for a Niche Buyer You're Trying to Reach

Use when: Your listing gets traffic but wrong buyers.

Product: [PASTE]
Current buyer who finds me (wrong fit): [describe]
Target buyer (right fit): [describe]

Rewrite the hook (first 1-2 sentences) so the RIGHT buyer self-selects in and the wrong buyer bounces. Then rewrite the Story section to use the target buyer's language, refere nces, and pain points.

Keep the Specs and Care sections identical — those don't change.

P02-010 — Description for a Product Where Buyers Hesitate on Materials

Use when: You get questions like "is this hypoallergenic?" "is this food-safe?" "will this rust?"

Product: [PASTE]
Material: [e.g., stainless steel, polymer clay, sterling silver, soy wax, MDF]
Common hesitation: [paste the most-asked question]

Write a "Materials & Safety" section that:
- Names the material clearly (no vague "eco-friendly" claims)
- Cites a relevant safety standard if applicable (FDA, CPSIA, ASTM, etc.)
- Addresses the specific hesitation head-on
- Closes with a sentence that turns the material into a feature, not a worry

Length: 80-120 words. Plain English.

P02-011 — Description That Works in Search Preview (First 160 Characters)

Use when: Etsy shows only the first ~160 characters of your description in search results.

Full description I have:
"[PASTE]"

Rewrite ONLY the first 160 characters (the snippet buyers see in search results) so it:
- Includes the primary keyword naturally
- Has a hook or benefit
- Doesn't end mid-sentence (Etsy cuts off awkwardly)
- Makes the buyer click "see more"

Then suggest the next 40 characters (so I know what's visible just past the cutoff) and what to put there.

P02-012 — Description That Builds Trust Without Social Proof You Don't Have

Use when: You're new and don't have reviews yet.

Product: [PASTE]

Write a "Why Buy From Me" section (NOT a generic "About" page) that uses these trust-bui lders instead of reviews:
- Process transparency ("I send a photo before shipping")
- Material specificity (not "high quality", but "100% cotton, OEKO-TEX certified")
- Realistic shipping promise ("made to order in 3 days")
- Personal touch ("I read every message myself")

Length: 100-150 words. Tone: humble-confident.

P02-013 — Description for a Product With Multiple Variants

Use when: You sell 10 colors / 5 sizes / 3 materials under one listing.

Product variants: [e.g., 12 colors, 4 sizes, 3 metals]
Listing title: [PASTE]

Write a description that:
- Names the variants upfront so the buyer doesn't bounce thinking "this isn't for me"
- Lists variants clearly (bullet or table)
- Asks the buyer to specify their choice in personalization / note to seller (if applica ble)
- Includes a sentence per variant family on who it's for

Don't list every SKU. Group sensibly.

P02-014 — Description for Wholesale / Bulk Buyers

Use when: You want B2B or wedding-pro clients to find and trust your listing.

Product: [PASTE]
Minimum order: [e.g., 12 units, 50 units, no minimum]
Bulk discount: [e.g., 10% off 10+, 20% off 50+]

Write a "Wholesale & Bulk Orders" section that:
- States the minimum clearly
- Lists volume discount tiers
- Mentions lead time for large orders (real, not aspirational)
- Invites a message for custom bulk quotes

Length: 100-150 words. Tone: professional, not consumer-y.

P02-015 — Description That Solves "Why Etsy vs. Amazon?"

Use when: You sell something Amazon sells cheaper.

Product: [PASTE]
Amazon equivalent: [describe the cheaper version]
What makes mine different: [e.g., "I make these in my studio", "Each one is slightly dif ferent", "Made to order"]

Write a 100-150 word paragraph that names the difference WITHOUT trashing Amazon. Buyers on Etsy already want to buy on Etsy — just remind them why.

Don't use the phrase "Amazon doesn't..." — keep it positive.

P02-016 — Description for a Product That's Also a "Treat Yourself" Item

Use when: Most of your buyers are self-purchasers, not gift-givers.

Product: [PASTE]

Write a "Treat Yourself" paragraph (3-4 sentences) that:
- Validates the impulse to buy for oneself
- Names the small everyday moment this product upgrades (morning coffee, desk setup, eve ning wind-down)
- Doesn't guilt the buyer or push scarcity
- Ends with a soft "you deserve it" without being cringey

Tone: warm, slightly playful. Avoid "luxury" if your price doesn't match.

P02-017 — Description for a Product Where You're the Artist / Maker

Use when: The maker's story is the differentiator (e.g., printmaker, ceramicist, woodworker).

About me (1-2 sentences): [PASTE brief bio or location]
Product: [PASTE]
How it relates to my story: [e.g., "I started making these after..." / "I make these in my garage studio in Portland"]

Write a "Meet the Maker" section that:
- Tells a 2-3 sentence origin story (real, not inspirational-poster)
- Connects the maker's background to the product (not a non-sequitur)
- Names location if it's a story element
- Closes with one sentence that makes the buyer feel like supporting a small business

Length: 80-120 words. Tone: human, not corporate.

P02-018 — Description That Pre-Empts 5 Common Pre-Purchase Questions

Use when: Your DMs are flooded with the same questions.

Product: [PASTE]
Top 5 questions I get in DMs:
1. [question]
2. [question]
3. [question]
4. [question]
5. [question]

Write a "Quick Answers" section (FAQ format) that addresses all 5 questions in 1-2 sentences each. Pre-empt the buyer's hesitation so they don't bounce to a competitor.

Add a final line: "Anything else? I read every message and reply within [X hours]."

P02-019 — Description for a Product in a Trendy / Fast-Moving Niche

Use when: Your category is currently hot (Taylor Swift merch, coastal grandmother, quiet luxury).

Trend I'm riding: [e.g., "coastal grandmother aesthetic", "mob wife aesthetic", "dark academia"]
Product: [PASTE]
Trend end date estimate: [e.g., "12-18 months", "this season only"]

Write a description that:
- References the trend in the first 2 lines (so trend-searchers find it)
- Doesn't date the listing to the trend (so it still works in 2 years)
- Uses trend language buyers actually search ("coastal grandma kitchen", "mob wife jewelry")
- Positions the product as a "wearable version of the aesthetic"

Length: 200-280 words. Avoid forcing the trend if it doesn't fit the product — buyers can smell it.

P02-020 — Description That Asks for the Review (Without Begging)

Use when: You want to prompt a 5-star review subtly at the end of the description.

Product: [PASTE]
Stage of buyer journey this targets: post-purchase (they're reading the description beca use they already bought, or are about to)

Write a final 2-3 sentence paragraph that:
- Thanks the buyer for considering a small business
- Plants the seed that you'd love to hear how the product works for them
- Invites them to message you with any issue FIRST (so they come to you before leaving a 1-star review)
- Doesn't say "please leave 5 stars" — that's against Etsy's TOS

Tone: grateful, not needy.

Section 03 — Tags & Etsy SEO (15 prompts)

Etsy gives you 13 tags per listing, each max 20 characters. Tags + title are the only direct SEO inputs Etsy actually listens to (descriptions barely count anymore). These prompts generate tags that surface for real buyer searches — not vanity keywords.

P03-001 — Generate the 13 Tags From Scratch

Use when: You have a product but no clue which tags to use.

Product: [PASTE description or photo details]
Target buyer: [describe]

Generate 13 Etsy tags that:
- Each is 20 characters max (count and report)
- Are multi-word phrases buyers actually search (not single keywords like "gift")
- Cover the 4 tag types Etsy rewards: product type, audience, occasion, style/material
- Don't repeat words across tags (Etsy de-duplicates)
- No commas, no all-caps, no fluff

Format as a numbered list with character count.
After the list, mark each tag with its category:
[P] = product type
[A] = audience
[O] = occasion
[S] = style / material

P03-002 — Find Tags Your Competitors Rank For (Reverse-Engineer)

Use when: You see a competitor ranking on page 1 and want their tags.

Competitor listing URL or title: [PASTE URL or title]

I can't see their tags directly (Etsy hides them). But I can deduce them. Based on:
- The listing title
- The first 160 characters of the description (which often leak tag phrases)
- The categories they chose
- The buyer language in their reviews

Generate 13 tags this competitor is MOST LIKELY using. Then write 5 DIFFERENT tags I can use to out-rank them by targeting the gap (a related search they didn't cover).

Format both lists with character counts.

P03-003 — Long-Tail Tag Generator (Low Competition Wins)

Use when: You want to rank on page 1 for specific 3-4 word phrases.

Product: [PASTE]
Core keyword: [e.g., "personalized cutting board"]

Generate 13 tags focused on LONG-TAIL phrases (3-4 words each) that:
- Include the core keyword
- Add a buyer-specific or occasion-specific modifier
- Are phrases a human would actually type ("personalized cutting board wedding gift", no t "personalized cutting board personalized gifts custom custom custom")
- Each tag 20 characters max

Long-tail tags convert better because the buyer searching them knows what they want.

Estimate competitiveness for each (Low / Medium / High) based on how specific the phrase is.

P03-004 — Multi-Word vs Single-Word Tag Strategy

Use when: You're unsure whether tags like "gift" (single) or "housewarming gift" (multi) are better.

My current tags: [PASTE 13 tags]
My product: [PASTE]

Analyze my tags. For each one, tell me:
- Is it single-word, multi-word, or a phrase?
- Does Etsy actually use this tag for matching, or is it too generic?
- What's a better 20-character multi-word version?

Then rewrite all 13 tags as multi-word phrases where possible. Explain Etsy's matching l ogic briefly so I understand the why.

P03-005 — Seasonal vs Evergreen Tag Mix

Use when: You want tags that work year-round AND capture seasonal spikes.

Product: [PASTE]
Current tags: [PASTE]

Split my tags into:
- 8-9 evergreen tags (always relevant)
- 4-5 seasonal tags (specific to upcoming holidays: Mother's Day, Christmas, Valentine's , etc.)

If my current tags are 100% evergreen, add the seasonal mix. If they're 100% seasonal, a dd evergreen anchors.

Seasonal tags should change every quarter — list the 4 quarterly tag sets I'd use throug hout 2026.

P03-006 — Tags for a Product You Can't Categorize Cleanly

Use when: Etsy forces you into one category but your product appeals to 3 audiences.

Product: [PASTE]
Categories Etsy forced me to pick: [list]
The 3 audiences this product fits: [A, B, C]

Etsy only lets me pick the category tree, but my tags can target all 3 audiences. Genera te 13 tags distributed across the 3 audiences:
- ~4-5 tags for audience A
- ~4-5 tags for audience B
- ~4 tags for audience C

Each tag 20 characters max. Mark each with [A], [B], or [C] so I know the audience split

P03-007 — Tag Refresh When Listings Are Stale

Use when: A listing had sales in month 1 but has been dead for 3+ months.

Stale listing:
- Title: [PASTE]
- Current tags: [PASTE 13 tags]
- Last sale: [date or "3 months ago"]
- Current traffic: [visits/week]

Diagnose why the tags might be stale in 2-3 bullets. Then generate 13 FRESH tags that:
- Use search phrasing Etsy rewards in 2026 (Etsy deprecates old tag patterns)
- Cover at least 3 phrases my current tags miss
- Include 2-3 seasonal tags for the next 30-90 days
- Each 20 characters max

P03-008 — Tags That Include the Buyer (Not Just the Product)

Use when: Your tags describe what the thing is but not who's buying it.

Product: [PASTE]
Current tags: [PASTE]

Rewrite 6 of my 13 tags to lead with the BUYER instead of the product.

Examples of the shift:
- "leather journal" → "journal for writers"
- "ceramic planter" → "planter for plant lovers"
- "personalized mug" → "mug gift for dad"

Buyer-led tags often convert higher because the buyer self-identifies mid-search.

Show before/after for the 6 tags. Keep the other 7 tags as product-led.

P03-009 — Tags Optimized for Etsy's "Exact Match" vs "Phrase Match"

Use when: You don't understand how Etsy matches tags to searches.

Product: [PASTE]

Briefly explain (3-4 sentences) how Etsy matches a buyer's search to a listing's tags:
- Exact match (whole phrase matches)
- Phrase match (the words appear in order)
- Loose match (related words)

Then generate 13 tags split into:
- 5 EXACT MATCH tags (full phrases buyers type)
- 5 PHRASE MATCH tags (word combinations Etsy can rearrange)
- 3 LOOSE MATCH tags (related / synonyms Etsy maps automatically)

Each 20 characters max. Tag each one with [E], [P], or [L].

P03-010 — Tags That Don't Repeat Title Keywords

Use when: You're wasting tag slots duplicating what's already in your title.

Title: [PASTE]
Current tags: [PASTE]

Etsy already indexes your title. Tags that duplicate title phrases waste a slot. Identify which of my tags are redundant with my title, then generate 13 NEW tags that:
- Cover search terms NOT in my title
- Include synonyms, plurals, alternative phrasings
- Add audience and occasion modifiers
- Each 20 characters max

Goal: title + 13 tags together cover 30-40 unique search terms.

P03-011 — Tag Generator for a Niched-Down Product

Use when: You sell something for a specific sub-niche (e.g., "for nurses", "for IT managers").

Product: [PASTE]
My sub-niche: [e.g., "for ICU nurses", "for kindergarten teachers", "for sourdough bakers"]

Generate 13 tags that:
- 5-6 lead with the sub-niche audience ("gift for nurses", "nurse graduation gift")
- 3-4 describe the product itself
- 3-4 add style / occasion / use case
- Each 20 characters max

Sub-niche tags win because big competitors ignore them. Rank #1 for "gift for ER nurses" instead of fighting for "gift".

Estimate Etsy competition for the sub-niche phrases (Low / Medium / High).

P03-012 — Tags When You Have an International Audience

Use when: You ship globally and want to capture UK / EU / AU / CA buyers.

Product: [PASTE]
Primary market: [e.g., US]
Secondary markets I want to reach: [e.g., UK, AU, CA]

Generate 13 tags distributed:
- 8-9 US English tags
- 2-3 UK / AU English tags (note: "aubergine" vs "eggplant", "jumper" vs "sweater", "trousers" vs "pants")
- 1-2 tags that work in both US and UK English

Flag any tag spelling that differs by region so I can swap seasonally.

P03-013 — Tags to Avoid (Blacklist Check)

Use when: You're tempted to use certain tags but suspect Etsy ignores them.

Tags I'm considering: [PASTE 13 candidates]

For each tag, tell me:
- Is it on Etsy's known blacklist? (single generic words like "gift", "unique", "handmade" alone, "best", "quality" — these don't help)
- Does Etsy de-prioritize it because it's too competitive / saturated?
- Is it a tag Etsy categorizes as "attributes" (size, color) which Etsy uses differently?

If any of my 13 tags are useless, replace them with stronger alternatives. Return a final 13-tag clean list with character counts.

P03-014 — Tags From Real Buyer Language (Review Mining)

Use when: You have competitor reviews and want to extract the words buyers use.

Paste 5-10 buyer reviews from competitors or your own past buyers:
[PASTE reviews]

Extract the EXACT phrases buyers used to describe:
- The product (3-5 phrases)
- The use case (3-5 phrases)
- The emotion / outcome (3-5 phrases)

Convert each phrase into a 20-character Etsy tag if possible. Goal: rank for the words buyers actually type, not the words I'd type as a seller.

Generate 13 tags from these buyer phrases, with character counts.

P03-015 — Annual Tag Calendar for One Listing

Use when: You have a seasonal product and want to swap tags quarterly.

Product: [PASTE]
Current tags: [PASTE]
Seasonal relevance: [e.g., "mostly Q4, slow in summer"]

Generate 4 sets of 13 tags, one for each quarter of 2026:
- Q1 (Jan-Mar): [13 tags, post-holiday + Valentine's + new year refresh]
- Q2 (Apr-Jun): [13 tags, spring + Mother's Day + graduation + wedding season]
- Q3 (Jul-Sep): [13 tags, summer + back-to-school + early fall]
- Q4 (Oct-Dec): [13 tags, Halloween + Thanksgiving + Christmas + New Year's Eve]

Each tag 20 characters max. Tags stay relevant to my product type — only the seasonal/occasion modifiers change.

This is the only way Etsy search works: tags reflect what buyers search THIS quarter.

Section 04 — Customer Service Replies (20 prompts)

Etsy messages are the #1 driver of repeat buyers and review quality. Slow / defensive / generic replies tank your shop. These prompts turn the most common messages into replies that close the sale, resolve the issue, and quietly earn a 5-star review.

P04-001 — Reply to "Do you accept custom orders?"

Use when: Buyer asks if you can personalize, modify, or make a custom version.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]

Write a friendly, professional reply that:
- Answers the question in the FIRST sentence (yes/no, with brief why)
- Explains what you CAN customize (materials, sizes, colors, text)
- States what you CAN'T do (be specific — don't say "anything" if you can't)
- Includes the next step: link to your customization listing OR ask them what they want
- Closes warmly without over-promising

Tone: helpful, not salesy. Length: 80-120 words.

P04-002 — Reply to "Can I see more photos?"

Use when: Buyer wants to see the actual product before buying.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Photos I have available: [e.g., 5 listing photos, 1 in-hand photo, no video]

Write a reply that:
- Says yes in the first sentence
- Tells them which photo(s) to look at on the listing and what they'll see
- Offers to send a custom photo or video if needed (without committing to it for free — say "happy to grab one for you")
- Closes by addressing the unspoken concern (usually quality / size / color)

Length: 60-100 words. Don't over-explain.

P04-003 — Reply to "When will this arrive?"

Use when: Buyer is anxious about shipping time.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
My processing time: [e.g., "3-5 business days"]
My shipping method: [e.g., "USPS Priority, 2-3 days domestic"] Buyer's location: [if mentioned]

Write a reply that:
- Gives a specific date range, not vague language
- Acknowledges their concern (gift deadline, event, etc.) without asking "what's it for"
 — that's invasive
- Offers a faster shipping option if you have one
- Closes with confidence, not apology

Length: 60-90 words. Avoid "hopefully" / "should arrive" — give a date.

P04-004 — Reply to "Can you rush this? It's for [event] tomorrow."

Use when: Buyer wants a rush order you may or may not be able to do.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
My normal processing: [e.g., "3-5 days"]
Whether I can rush: [yes / no / sometimes]
Rush fee if any: $[X]

Write a reply that:
- Opens with empathy (not "sorry I can't" — "I hear you, let me see what I can do")
- States clearly: yes I can rush, or no I can't this time
- If yes: states the rush fee and new delivery date
- If no: explains why briefly, offers the next-best option (gift card, digital alternati ve, expedited shipping only)
- Doesn't apologize 5 times — one "I'm sorry this is tight" is enough

Length: 80-120 words.

P04-005 — Reply to "Is this in stock / available?"

Use when: Buyer asks about availability.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Product status: [e.g., "made to order, ships in 3 days" / "in stock, ready to ship" / "made to order, currently 1 week backlog"]

Write a reply that:
- Confirms availability in the first sentence
- States the lead time / ship time
- Reassures them (especially if it's a gift) without being patronizing
- Closes with an invitation to order

Length: 50-80 words. Don't over-explain — they asked a yes/no question.

P04-006 — Reply to "What size should I get?"

Use when: Buyer is confused about sizing and you can see the path forward.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Sizing complexity: [e.g., "5 sizes, runs small", "fits two ways", "depends on recipient"]
Information I need from buyer: [e.g., "their height and weight", "where they'll use it"]

Write a reply that:
- Asks for the specific info you need to recommend a size (1-2 questions)
- Includes the sizing chart URL or image link
- Gives them a fallback: "If you tell me [X], I'll pick the right one for you"
- Doesn't make them feel dumb for asking

Length: 70-100 words.

P04-007 — Reply to "Can you do a discount?"

Use when: Buyer asks for a lower price.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
My pricing flexibility: [e.g., "no, prices are firm" / "yes for bulk orders 5+" / "yes, I have a sale code X"]

Write a reply that:
- Acknowledges their request warmly (don't ignore or dismiss)
- States your position clearly (yes / no / sometimes)
- If no: explains value without apologizing ("My [material/time] doesn't allow lower prices, but here's how I make it worth it...")
- If yes: gives the exact mechanism (bulk threshold, sale code, etc.)
- Closes warmly — no hard feelings

Length: 80-120 words. Don't cave just because they asked.

P04-008 — Reply to "I changed my mind, can I cancel?"

Use when: Buyer wants to cancel before you ship.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Order status: [not yet shipped / already shipped]
My cancellation policy: [PASTE]

Write a reply that:
- Confirms you can cancel (if not yet shipped) and that you'll process the refund within [X days]
- Apologizes for the inconvenience without groveling
- If already shipped: explains you can't intercept it, offers return option
- Invites them to message again if they need anything

Length: 60-90 words. Use the buyer's first name if they signed with one.

P04-009 — Reply to "The item arrived damaged."

Use when: Buyer reports damage. Critical to handle well — this is where reviews are made or lost.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Damage description: [their description]
My policy on damage: [e.g., "full refund or replacement, no return needed"]

Write a reply that:
- Opens with apology (brief — one sentence) and a clear next step
- Asks for a photo if they didn't send one (specific: "a photo of the damaged item and t he packaging")
- States what you'll do (replace / refund / partial refund) WITHOUT making them ask
- Gives a timeline: "I'll ship a replacement tomorrow / refund within 24 hours"
- Closes with empathy: "I'm sorry this happened — let me make it right"

Length: 100-150 words. Don't be defensive.

P04-010 — Reply to "This isn't what I expected."

Use when: Buyer is unhappy but it's not damaged — it's a fit / expectation issue.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Their expectation: [what they thought they'd get]
What they got: [what you sent]
Whether it's actually accurate to your listing: [yes / mostly / no, my photos undersold it]

Write a reply that:
- Validates their frustration without admitting fault (unless you undersold it)
- Asks for specifics: "Can you tell me what part didn't match what you expected?"
- Offers 2 paths: return for refund, OR keep with partial refund
- Doesn't force them to return a low-cost item (cost of return shipping kills goodwill)

Length: 100-130 words. Goal: turn a complaint into a 5-star recovery review.

P04-011 — Reply to "Where is my order?"

Use when: Buyer is asking about a shipped order that hasn't arrived.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Ship date: [date]
Carrier: [USPS / FedEx / UPS]
Tracking status: [in transit / delivered / no tracking update in X days]
Buyer location: [domestic / international]

Write a reply that:
- Reassures them in sentence 1 (don't make them panic)
- Explains where the package likely is based on tracking
- Gives a realistic delivery window ("should arrive by [date]")
- Offers the next step: "If it doesn't arrive by [date + 3 days], I'll send a replacement or refund — your call"
- Length: 80-120 words.

Don't say "USPS is just slow" — that's defensive. Own it: "I'll make sure you get it."

P04-012 — Reply to a 3-Star Review (Public)

Use when: You got a lukewarm review and want to respond publicly without groveling.

3-star review text: [PASTE]
What went wrong: [your honest take]

Write a PUBLIC response that:
- Opens with thanks for the feedback (genuine, not sarcastic)
- Addresses the specific concern raised (don't generalize)
- States what you've done / will do to fix it
- Invites them to message you directly for resolution
- Doesn't argue facts or contradict them in public
- Length: 60-100 words.

Goal: future buyers reading the review see professionalism, not defensiveness.

P04-013 — Reply to a 1-Star Review (Public)

Use when: You got a bad review that's unfair or inaccurate.

1-star review text: [PASTE]
What actually happened: [your honest take]

Write a PUBLIC response that:
- Thanks them for taking the time to review
- States your side of the facts calmly (1-2 sentences max)
- Explains what you did to try to resolve it
- Invites them to message you
- Doesn't insult them, doesn't attack, doesn't play the victim
- Length: 80-120 words.

Future buyers will read both — your response is the real review.

P04-014 — Reply to a 5-Star Review (Public Thank You)

Use when: You got a great review and want to respond.

5-star review text: [PASTE]

Write a PUBLIC response that:
- Thanks them by name (or "@customer" if anonymous)
- Mentions something specific from their review (so it doesn't look canned)
- Invites them back ("Hope to see you again for [occasion]")
- Doesn't oversell or beg for more reviews
- Length: 30-60 words.

Short, warm, specific. Don't write an essay.

P04-015 — Reply to a Bulk / Wedding / Corporate Inquiry

Use when: A buyer wants 20+ of your product for an event or business.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Quantity: [X]
Event / use: [e.g., wedding favors, corporate gifts, resale]
Date needed: [if mentioned]

Write a reply that:
- Confirms you do bulk in the first sentence
- Asks for the details you need to quote (quantity, customization, delivery date, shippi ng address)
- Mentions your bulk discount tier if you have one
- Closes with: "Once I have these details, I'll send a custom quote within [X hours]"
- Length: 80-110 words.

Don't quote a price in the first reply — get the details first.

P04-016 — Reply to "Do you ship to [country]?"

Use when: Buyer asks about international shipping.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Whether I ship there: [yes / no / only certain products]
Shipping cost / carrier: [PASTE if yes]
Any import duties / customs note: [PASTE if relevant]

Write a reply that:
- Answers yes/no in the first sentence
- States the shipping cost OR explains how it's calculated at checkout
- Flags customs duties if applicable (they're the buyer's responsibility, but mention it kindly)
- Closes with an invitation to order
- Length: 60-90 words.

Don't make them hunt for the info — be upfront.

P04-017 — Reply to a Custom Order With Confusing Personalization Details

Use when: Buyer is asking for a customization that needs clarification.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
What they want: [their request, including ambiguous parts]
Ambiguous detail(s): [e.g., "they said 'gold' but I have 4 gold tones", "they sent a low
-res photo"]

Write a reply that:
- Confirms you can do it (or can't, if you can't)
- Asks 1-2 SPECIFIC clarifying questions (not "could you clarify?" — "Do you mean gold o r rose gold?")
- Offers a default if they don't reply ("If you'd like, I'll go with [safe default] unle ss you tell me otherwise")
- Sets expectations: "I'll mock this up and send for your approval before I make it"
- Length: 80-110 words.

Don't make them guess what you need.

P04-018 — Reply to a Slow / Polite Compliment

Use when: Buyer says something nice but hasn't ordered.

Buyer's message: [e.g., "Wow, this is beautiful! How long have you been making these?"]
Their history: [first-time visitor / repeat browser]

Write a reply that:
- Thanks them warmly
- Answers their question briefly (your origin story in 2-3 sentences)
- Subtly invites them to buy or follow your shop ("I post new pieces every Friday")
- Doesn't push — let the warmth do the selling
- Length: 50-80 words.

These replies build relationships that lead to sales 2-6 months later.

P04-019 — Reply to a Negative Comparison ("I found it cheaper on Amazon")

Use when: Buyer implies your price is too high vs. a cheaper competitor.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Cheaper competitor: [name / link]
What makes mine different: [e.g., handmade, materials, customization]

Write a reply that:
- Doesn't get defensive or trashing
- Acknowledges the price difference honestly ("You're right, mine is more — and here's w hy")
- Lists 2-3 concrete differences (handmade in X days, Y material, Z customization)
- Closes with: "If [use case] matters, mine is worth the difference. If not, totally fai r to go cheaper."
- Length: 80-110 words.

Never bad-mouth the competitor. State your value, let them decide.

P04-020 — Reply to a Spammy / Bot-Looking Message

Use when: Message is suspicious, off-topic, or feels like a scam.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Red flag: [e.g., "asks me to click a link" / "offers to pay outside Etsy" / "asks for my email"]

Write a reply that:
- Responds professionally WITHOUT engaging with the suspicious request
- Redirects to Etsy's official messaging system if needed
- Flags in your own notes to watch this account
- Length: 30-60 words. Don't engage, don't share info.

Example tone: "Hi! All my orders and communication happen through Etsy's official system to protect both of us. Please feel free to order directly through my shop. Thanks!"

Section 05 — Social Media Captions (20 prompts)

For Etsy sellers, social media is top-of-funnel traffic that funnels to Etsy search. Pinterest and Instagram matter most; TikTok works for visual products. These prompts write captions that build desire, link back to Etsy, and don't sound like every other Etsy post.

P05-001 — Instagram Product Showcase Caption

Use when: Posting a single product photo on Instagram.

Product: [PASTE]
Photo vibe: [e.g., "minimalist flat lay on linen", "in-hand lifestyle shot", "cozy styled scene"]
Target audience: [e.g., brides, new moms, plant lovers]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Opens with a hook (not "New in the shop!")
- Tells a 1-2 sentence story or shows the product in a real moment
- Includes 3-5 lines of value (why it's special, how to use it)
- Ends with a soft CTA ("link in bio" or "DM me to order")
- Length: 80-150 words

Add 20-25 hashtags at the end:
- 5 niche (#ceramicplanterforsucculents)
- 5 mid (#handmadehome #etsyshop)
- 5 broad (#home #giftideas #smallbusiness)
- 5 community (#etsysellersofinstagram #handmadeftw)

P05-002 — Pinterest Pin Description (SEO-Optimized)

Use when: Pinterest is your #1 traffic source. Pin descriptions matter for Pinterest SEO.

Product: [PASTE]
Target search: [e.g., "boho nursery decor", "personalized wedding gift"]

Write a Pinterest pin description that:
- Is 100-300 words (Pinterest rewards longer descriptions)
- Includes the target keyword in the first 50 characters
- Lists 3-4 ways the product is used or styled
- Mentions occasions / seasons it fits
- Sounds like a helpful blog post, not a sales pitch
- Ends with a soft CTA ("Find the link to shop")

Pinterest readers are searchers, not scrollers — write for someone typing the keyword in to Pinterest search.

P05-003 — TikTok / Instagram Reels Script (15-30 seconds)

Use when: You're making a short-form video and need a hook-body-CTA structure.

Product: [PASTE]
Video concept: [e.g., "showing how I make it", "POV: unboxing", "styling it 3 ways", "before/after"] Length target: [15s / 30s / 60s]

Write a video script with:
- HOOK (first 3 seconds, on-screen text + spoken): stop the scroll, name the pain or curiosity
- BODY (visual + audio for each segment): what happens, what to show
- CTA (last 3-5 seconds): "link in bio", "comment [X]", "save this for later"

Also suggest:
- 3-5 text overlays (when they appear)
- Trending audio type (without using specific copyrighted tracks)
- 5-7 hashtags

Length of script: timed second-by-second.

P05-004 — Behind-the-Scenes / Process Post Caption

Use when: Sharing how you make the product. Builds connection + justifies price.

Product: [PASTE]
Process detail: [e.g., "I hand-throw each one on the wheel", "I laser-cut then hand-finish each piece", "I hand-stitch every seam"]
Time per piece: [e.g., "about 2 hours per piece", "3 days from cut to ship"]
Material cost / retail cost: [optional, e.g., "$4 in materials, $X retail"]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Opens with a relatable moment (e.g., "The real reason this costs $X...")
- Walks through 1-2 specific process steps (not all of them — pick the most interesting)
- Includes a real number (time or material) to ground the price
- Closes with a soft CTA
- Length: 100-180 words

Tone: humble, not "look how hard I work."

P05-005 — Customer Testimonial / Review Repost Caption

Use when: You got a great review and want to share it.

Customer's review text: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Their photo if any: [describe]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Leads with the customer's photo (the visual) and a one-line hook
- Quotes the most powerful 1-2 lines from the review
- Adds your context: "This is why I do what I do" or similar
- Invites others to share their stories in comments
- Length: 60-100 words

Add 5-8 niche hashtags at the end (skip the huge tags for testimonial posts).

Don't tag the customer publicly unless they've explicitly given permission in DM.

P05-006 — Pre-Launch / Restock Hype Caption

Use when: You're launching a new product or restocking something sold out.

Product: [PASTE]
Launch date / restock date: [date]
What makes this drop special: [e.g., "first time in 6 months", "limited to 30 pieces", " new color I've been testing for a year"]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Opens with a curiosity hook (don't reveal everything in line 1)
- Builds anticipation across 3-4 short paragraphs
- Drops the date and time clearly
- Closes with "set your reminder" / "DM me to be on the early list"
- Length: 100-150 words

Tone: excited but not manic.

P05-007 — "Story Time" Caption That Builds Brand

Use when: You want to share an origin story or vulnerable moment.

Story seed: [e.g., "Why I started making these", "The mistake that almost closed my sho p", "A customer message that made me cry"]
True story elements: [PASTE 2-3 real facts]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Opens with a hook that pulls the reader in (specific, not generic)
- Tells the story in 4-6 short paragraphs (line breaks matter on IG)
- Includes 1 specific detail (numbers, names, places) that makes it real
- Connects the story to the product without being forced
- Closes with a line that invites engagement ("Have you ever had a moment like this?")
- Length: 150-250 words

Avoid inspirational-poster cliches. Be specific or be quiet.

P05-008 — Multi-Product Carousel Caption (Instagram)

Use when: Posting a carousel with 5-10 product photos.

Carousel concept: [e.g., "5 wedding gift ideas under $30", "my top sellers this month",
 "styling the same room 3 ways"]
Products shown: [list 5-10]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Opens with a hook that names WHO this is for (not what)
- Walks through each slide in 1 sentence ("Slide 3: my favorite for the person who has e verything")
- Saves the strongest product for last
- Closes with "Save this post for later"
- Length: 100-180 words

For each slide, suggest a 5-10 word text overlay (it shows up in saved shares).

P05-009 — Pinterest Idea Pin / Video Description

Use when: Posting a video idea pin (Pinterest's TikTok competitor).

Product: [PASTE]
Idea pin concept: [e.g., "How to style this vase 3 ways", "What's in my packaging", "Day in the life making these"]

Write an Idea Pin description that:
- Includes the keyword in line 1
- Describes what the viewer will learn / see (so they tap)
- Lists 3 specific takeaways or moments in the video
- Links back to your Etsy listing
- Length: 50-150 words

Idea Pins don't need a CTA like Instagram — Pinterest drives search traffic naturally.

P05-010 — Caption That Sells Without Saying "Buy Now"

Use when: You want to sell without feeling salesy.

Product: [PASTE]
Your goal with this post: [e.g., "drive traffic to listing", "build audience trust", "show use case"]

Write a caption that sells the FEELING or USE CASE of owning the product, not the product itself:
- Frame it as lifestyle ("My Sunday morning routine now includes...")
- Or identity ("This is for the person who...")
- Or problem-solution ("Tired of [X]? Same. Here's what I did.")
- Length: 80-140 words

The product name appears once, near the end. CTA: "link in bio" or "DM me for the link."

P05-011 — Seasonal / Holiday Post Caption

Use when: Capitalizing on a holiday or season.

Product: [PASTE]
Occasion: [e.g., "Mother's Day 2026", "Black Friday", "Valentine's Day", "first day of fall"]
Lead time you need buyers to know: [e.g., "Order by Dec 15 for Christmas delivery"]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Names the occasion early (so holiday-searchers find it)
- Sells the emotional angle (not the product)
- Mentions the order-by date for delivery clearly
- Closes with a soft CTA
- Length: 80-130 words

Add 8-12 seasonal hashtags (#mothersdaygift #giftformom #2026gift) + 5 evergreen.

P05-012 — User-Generated Content / Repost Caption

Use when: A customer tagged you or sent you a photo of your product in use.

Their photo description: [describe]
What they said (if anything): [PASTE caption or DM]
Product: [PASTE]

Write a repost caption that:
- Credits them ("via @theirhandle" or "thanks to my customer [first name]")
- Reacts genuinely to their photo or words
- Adds value: "Here's how they styled it" or "This is the [product] in [color]"
- Doesn't make it about you — make them the hero
- Length: 40-80 words

Always ask permission before reposting photos. Include: "DM me if you'd like me to take this down."

P05-013 — "Ask Me Anything" / Engagement Caption

Use when: You want comments and DMs, not just likes.

Product / niche: [PASTE]
Topics you're comfortable talking about: [e.g., "pricing", "process", "Etsy algorithm", "mistakes"]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Opens with a curious hook ("I almost closed my Etsy shop in 2024. Here's what saved it ...")
- Poses 3-4 specific questions to the audience
- Promises a real answer, not a "stay tuned" tease
- Closes with "Comment below" or "DM me"
- Length: 80-130 words

Questions should be ones you actually want to answer (so you don't dread the comments).

P05-014 — Comparison / Versus Post Caption

Use when: Showing two versions of a product (e.g., "the original vs the upgraded version").

Version A: [describe]
Version B: [describe]
Why version B exists: [e.g., "I heard you wanted [X]", "I tested it for 6 months", "the new material"]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Frames it as a STORY (not "which one do you prefer?")
- Explains what changed and WHY (specific reason, not vague)
- Asks: "Which would you pick?" to drive comments
- Length: 80-120 words

Avoid asking "A or B?" polls — they drive likes but not saves. Ask "why" instead.

P05-015 — Caption for a "Not Perfect" Post (Showing Imperfection)

Use when: Building trust by sharing a mistake, near-miss, or learning.

The imperfect moment: [PASTE — e.g., "I shipped the wrong color to a customer yesterday", "I dropped a whole batch", "my listing flopped for 3 months"]
How you handled it: [PASTE — e.g., "I sent a replacement overnight + a refund", "I started over", "I rewrote the title"]
What you learned: [PASTE — e.g., "always double-check personalization", "batch in smaller runs", "title is everything"]

Write a caption that:
- Leads with the moment, not the lesson
- Owns it (no excuses)
- Shows the fix transparently
- Closes with the lesson — but as a takeaway for THEM, not a lecture for YOU
- Length: 120-200 words

Imperfection posts build more trust than highlight reels. Be real.

P05-016 — Facebook Group Post (NOT on Your Own Page)

Use when: Posting in an Etsy seller Facebook group or buyer community.

Group context: [e.g., "Etsy sellers group", "wedding planning group for brides"]
Your post goal: [e.g., "get feedback on new design", "share a tip", "soft-promote my lis ting"]

Write a Facebook group post that:
- Provides value FIRST (a tip, a question, a story) — not a sales pitch
- If mentioning your product: do it at the END as a "by the way, I made this if anyone n eeds one"
- Invites comments / discussion
- Doesn't include external links in the post (FB groups flag these)
- Length: 60-120 words

Group posts that sell directly get removed. Posts that help get featured.

P05-017 — Twitter / X Thread (8-12 Tweets) Promoting a Product

Use when: You want to drive traffic from X to Etsy.

Product: [PASTE]
Your angle: [e.g., "I made $5K/month from this niche", "Here's what I learned shipping 2
00 of these", "The mistake I made with Etsy SEO"]

Write an 8-12 tweet thread where:
- Tweet 1 is a strong hook (specific number, surprising fact, or contrarian take)
- Tweets 2-7 each teach ONE thing, with one sentence per idea
- Tweet 8-9 mentions your product naturally ("I built [product] for Etsy sellers who wan t this shortcut")
- Tweet 10+ is a soft CTA ("link below" or "linked in my bio")
- Each tweet is under 280 characters

Add 1-2 hashtags max (X de-weights hashtag-heavy posts).

P05-018 — Reels / TikTok Caption for a "Hack" Video

Use when: You're sharing a useful Etsy seller tip or hack.

The hack: [PASTE — e.g., "How to refresh stale Etsy listings", "Free tool to find my co mpetitors' tags", "How to write a title that ranks in 2026"]
Length target: [15s / 30s]

Write a Reels caption that:
- Names the hack in the first line (so searchers find it)
- Includes 3-5 lines of context / why it works
- Asks a question to drive comments ("Do you do this already?")
- Tags 3-5 niche hashtags (#etsytips #etsyseo #handmadebusiness)
- Length: 60-100 words

This type of content gets SAVED, which the algorithm rewards heavily.

P05-019 — "What I'd Do Differently" / Year-in-Review Caption

Use when: Sharing lessons from a year of selling on Etsy.

Time period: [e.g., "My first year on Etsy", "2025 wrap-up", "5 years selling"]
Key lessons: [PASTE 3-5 real lessons]
What you'd skip: [e.g., "I wouldn't spend time on TikTok", "I wouldn't lower my prices"]

Write an Instagram caption that:
- Opens with a strong hook (a number or a counterintuitive lesson)
- Lists 3-5 lessons in short paragraphs (line breaks matter)
- Each lesson has ONE specific takeaway (not generic advice)
- Closes with "What's a lesson you'd add?"
- Length: 150-220 words

Year-in-review posts get massive saves if specific. Generic advice gets ignored.

P05-020 — Caption That Quietly Boosts Etsy SEO

Use when: You want your Instagram to drive search traffic back to Etsy.

Product: [PASTE]
Target Etsy search keyword: [keyword]

Write a caption that:
- Uses the target keyword naturally 2-3 times
- Includes related long-tail phrases ("personalized wedding gift", "bridesmaid proposal gift")
- Tags your photo with location + niche (Instagram's search also matters)
- Ends with a clear path to Etsy ("shop link in bio")
- Length: 100-150 words

Then suggest 3 Instagram alt-text lines for the photo (Instagram indexes alt-text for search).

Buyers discover you on Instagram, then search you on Etsy — make the path obvious.

Section 06 — Customer Emails (15 prompts)

Etsy handles transactional messages (receipts, shipping labels) automatically. These prompts cover the OTHER emails you send — the ones that build trust, prevent 1-star reviews, and turn buyers into repeat customers.

P06-001 — Order Received / Processing Started Email

Use when: Auto-email that fires when a buyer orders (set up in Etsy's shop settings OR via a tool like Etsy Seller Newsletter / Mailchimp).

Shop name: [PASTE]
Buyer name: [PASTE first name or "there"]
Product(s) ordered: [list with customizations if any]
Estimated ship date: [date]

Write a 3-paragraph email:
1. Thank them by name (or "there" if no name). Reference the SPECIFIC product they bough t, with any customization details they provided. This proves a human read the order.

2. Tell them exactly what happens next: "I'll start making this today. It ships by [date ] via [carrier]. You'll get a tracking number by [day]."

3. Soft CTA: "If you have any questions, just reply to this email — I read every one. If this is a gift and you need it by [date], let me know and I'll prioritize it."

Subject line: warm and specific ("Your [product] is in my hands" — NOT "Order confirmati on").

Length: 120-180 words.

P06-002 — Personalization / Mockup Approval Email

Use when: You make a custom product and want buyer approval before producing.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Their customization: [PASTE]
What they need to do: [approve the mockup / confirm the spelling / pick a color]

Write an email that:
- Opens with a friendly greeting
- Attaches or links to the mockup / preview
- Asks for SPECIFIC feedback: "Please confirm the spelling and the font choice"
- Sets a deadline: "If I don't hear back by [date + 3 days], I'll go ahead with what you
've already shared so you don't lose your delivery window"
- Closes warmly

Subject line: "Quick check on your [product] before I make it"

Length: 80-130 words.

P06-003 — Order Shipped Email (Personal, Not Auto)

Use when: You want to send a separate "your order shipped" message that feels human.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Carrier + tracking: [PASTE]
Estimated delivery: [date range]

Write an email that:
- Confirms shipment in the first sentence (so buyers who skim get the info)
- Includes tracking number + a direct link to the carrier's tracking page
- Notes the estimated delivery window
- For gifts: "If you're giving this as a gift, the packaging is ready to go — no need to rewrap"
- Closes with: "Hope you love it. I'd love to hear how it turns out."

Subject line: "Your [product] is on its way!"

Length: 100-140 words. Don't oversell.

P06-004 — Delay Notification (When You'll Ship Late)

Use when: You can't ship by the promised date. Critical to handle well — silence creates 1-star reviews.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Original ship date: [date]
New ship date: [date]
Reason for delay: [e.g., "my supplier shipped the wrong material", "I'm one person and I
'm behind", "the customization needs a redo"]

Write an email that:
- Owns it in sentence 1 (no excuses, no "unfortunately")
- Explains the delay in ONE sentence (don't over-explain)
- Gives the new ship date with confidence
- Offers the buyer an out: "If this new timeline doesn't work, I'm happy to refund you i n full — just say the word"
- Closes with an apology (brief, one sentence)

Subject line: "Quick update on your [product]"

Length: 100-150 words. Send this BEFORE the original ship date, not after.

P06-005 — Damage / Lost Package Resolution Email

Use when: Package was damaged in transit or marked delivered but not received.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
What happened: [e.g., "USPS marked it delivered but you haven't received it" / "the carr ier damaged the box"]
Your resolution: [e.g., "shipping a replacement today" / "refunding in full" / "filing a claim and waiting"]

Write an email that:
- Apologizes once (brief, real)
- States what happened (1 sentence)
- States what you're doing (1-2 sentences) WITH a timeline
- Doesn't ask them to do anything yet — give them time to see your action
- Closes: "If you don't see the new tracking by [day], or the refund by [day], just repl y and I'll make it right"

Subject line: "Making this right — your [product]"

Length: 100-150 words.

P06-006 — Refund Processed Email

Use when: Refund is on its way to the buyer's account.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Refund amount: $[X]
When it'll appear: [e.g., "5-10 business days depending on your bank"]

Write an email that:
- Confirms the refund in sentence 1
- States the amount and timing
- Briefly apologizes (one sentence, real, not groveling)
- Closes with: "I'm sorry this didn't work out. If you'd like to try a different version in the future, message me anytime."

Subject line: "Your refund is on the way"

Length: 60-100 words. Don't oversell — they've already left.

P06-007 — Pre-Delivery "Did It Arrive?" Check-In (For Gift Orders)

Use when: You shipped a gift to a recipient directly. The buyer (gift giver) is anxious.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Recipient name: [if known]
Product: [PASTE]
Shipped date: [date]

Write an email that:
- Acknowledges this is a gift (you knew because they marked it as such)
- Confirms it was delivered (or "should arrive by [date]")
- Asks ONE question: "Did it land well? I'd love to know how the recipient reacted — but no pressure, just curious"
- Closes warmly

Subject line: "Did your [product] gift arrive safely?"

Length: 60-90 words. This is also your sneaky way to learn if the recipient loved it (an d to ask for a review once the gift-giver tells you).

P06-008 — Gentle Review Request (Sent 7-14 Days After Delivery)

Use when: Enough time has passed for the buyer to have used the product.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Days since delivery: [7-14]

Write a review request email that:
- Opens by checking in: "Just wanted to make sure your [product] is working out"
- If they loved it: gently invites a review ("If you have a minute, a review helps my sm all business more than you know")
- If they had an issue: invites them to message FIRST ("If anything isn't right, message me — I'll make it right before you leave a review")
- Doesn't say "please leave 5 stars" (against Etsy TOS)
- Closes warmly

Subject line: "How's your [product] working out?"

Length: 80-120 words. Send this ONCE. Don't pester.

P06-009 — Follow-Up to an Unanswered Customization Question

Use when: A buyer hasn't replied to your mockup or personalization clarification.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Days since your last message: [3-5]

Write a follow-up email that:
- Acknowledges they're busy (no guilt)
- Restates the question in 1 sentence
- Provides a safe default: "If I don't hear back by [date + 2 days], I'll go with [safe default] so we don't lose your delivery window"
- Closes: "Reply anytime — even just a thumbs up works"

Subject line: "Quick nudge on your [product]"

Length: 60-90 words. Be friendly, not pushy.

P06-010 — Reorder Reminder (For Consumables / Repeat-Buy Products)

Use when: Your product gets used up (candles, soap, food, planner inserts).

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
Approximate time to run out: [e.g., "your soy candle burns ~40 hours"]
Last order date: [date]

Write a reorder email that:
- Notes how long ago they ordered
- Suggests they may be running low
- Offers a small reorder incentive: "Order in the next 7 days and I'll add a free [X]"
- Closes: "No pressure — if you have plenty left, just ignore this."

Subject line: "Time to restock your [product]?"

Length: 60-100 words. Don't send more than once per product per year.

P06-011 — Win-Back Email (For Lapsed Customers)

Use when: A past customer hasn't ordered in 6-12 months.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Last order: [product + date, e.g., "your planter, 8 months ago"]
New product or shop update: [e.g., "I just launched 3 new colors" / "I just hit 1,000 or ders"]

Write a win-back email that:
- Opens with genuine appreciation ("It's been a while — thanks for being a customer")
- Shares 1 specific NEW thing in the shop they haven't seen
- Offers a small win-back incentive: "Use code THANKS10 for 10% off your next order"
- Closes: "If you're not in the market anymore, totally get it. If you are, I'd love to make something for you again."

Subject line: "Long time no see — here's what's new"

Length: 80-130 words. Don't make it guilt-trippy.

P06-012 — Shop Update Newsletter (Monthly Broadcast)

Use when: You have an email list outside Etsy and want to send a monthly update.

Month / occasion: [e.g., "January 2026" / "Q1 newsletter" / "Holiday 2025 wrap-up"]
Top 3 things to share: [e.g., "new product drop", "behind the scenes", "a sale"]
Shop name: [PASTE]

Write a newsletter email that:
- Opens with a personal note from you (the maker) — 2-3 sentences max
- Section 1: NEW PRODUCT(S) — one paragraph + 1-2 photos worth of detail
- Section 2: BEHIND THE SCENES — a real moment from the month (a fail, a win, a learning)
- Section 3: SALE / GIFT GUIDE / SEASONAL — one clear CTA with a deadline
- Closes: "Reply anytime — I read every email"

Subject line: warm, specific, NOT clickbait ("3 new pieces + a small fail from this month" beats "You won't BELIEVE what's new!")

Length: 250-400 words total.

P06-013 — Holiday Promotion Email (Pre-Holiday Push)

Use when: Sending a sale announcement before a major holiday.

Holiday: [e.g., "Mother's Day 2026" / "Black Friday" / "Valentine's Day"]
Discount: [e.g., "15% off, code MOM15"]
Deadline to order for delivery: [date]
Shop name: [PASTE]

Write a holiday email that:
- Opens with an emotional hook (NOT "Sale! 15% off!")
- Names the holiday in line 1 (search-friendliness + clarity)
- States the discount code clearly
- States the order-by date for delivery clearly (this is the buyer's #1 fear)
- Suggests 2-3 specific products from your shop (so they don't have to browse)
- Closes: "If you're not sure what to get, reply and I'll personally recommend something."

Subject line: warm + clear ("Mother's Day gift guide — order by May 5 for delivery")

Length: 200-300 words.

P06-014 — Customer Birthday / Anniversary Email (If You Collect Birthdays)

Use when: You've collected a customer's birthday (or anniversary, wedding date, etc.) and want to send a thoughtful email.

Buyer's name: [PASTE]
Occasion: [e.g., "your birthday" / "your first anniversary"] Gift suggestion from your shop: [e.g., "the personalized wine box" / "your bestselling j ournal"]
Discount code: [e.g., "BIRTHDAY15 for 15% off"]

Write a birthday email that:
- Opens with genuine warmth ("Happy birthday! Hope your day is as great as you are")
- Briefly mentions the gift idea or discount
- Doesn't hard-sell — let the warmth do the work
- Closes: "Thanks for being part of my little shop's journey."

Subject line: "Happy birthday from [shop name] — a little something for you"

Length: 50-90 words. Brief and warm beats long and salesy.

Use when: You're going on vacation or have a planned break and want to set expectations.

Your break dates: [e.g., "May 20-27"]
When you'll respond: [e.g., "I'll reply on May 28"]
Whether you'll fulfill orders during break: [yes with delay / no / partially]
Shop name: [PASTE]

Write an out-of-office auto-reply that:
- Thanks them for reaching out
- States the break dates clearly
- States when you'll reply
- For urgent needs: gives an alternative (Etsy "report a problem" or "wait until I retur n")
- Reassures about orders: "If you ordered before [date], your order will ship before I l eave"
- Length: 80-130 words

Also suggest 2 alternate subject lines if you want to differentiate personal vs. custome r replies.

Tone: human, not robotic. Buyers forgive breaks — they don't forgive silence.

Section 07 — Mockups, Photography & Listing Images (15 prompts)

Etsy is a visual marketplace. Your photos are the #1 conversion lever — even a perfect listing won't sell if the photos are weak. These prompts help you direct AI to plan shots, generate mockup ideas, and write alt-text / image prompts for AI image tools.

P07-001 — Mockup Shot List for One Product

Use when: You have a product but no plan for the photos you'll shoot.

Product: [PASTE]
Shop vibe: [e.g., "minimalist, neutral tones", "boho, warm tones", "modern, black & white", "cozy cottagecore"]
Number of photos Etsy recommends: 10

Write a shot list for 10 product photos that:
- Photo 1: hero shot, white background, product fills 80% of frame
- Photo 2: scale / in-hand / in-use
- Photo 3: detail close-up (texture, materials, craftsmanship)
- Photo 4-7: lifestyle / styled scene variations (4 different contexts)
- Photo 8: packaging / unboxing
- Photo 9: size comparison (with common object — coin, hand, ruler)
- Photo 10: trust builder (real customer photo, materials laid out, or "behind the scenes" making-of)

For each shot, describe:
- Composition (what's in frame, where)
- Lighting (natural / softbox / golden hour / etc.)
- Background / props (specific items to use)
- Why this shot converts (the buyer's question it answers)

P07-002 — Lifestyle Scene Brainstormer

Use when: You need to place your product in scenes but always use the same setup.

Product: [PASTE]
Product category: [e.g., "ceramic planter" / "leather journal" / "personalized mug"]

Brainstorm 15 lifestyle scene ideas I can shoot at home with minimal props. For each:
- Describe the scene in 1 sentence
- Name 2-3 props I need
- Explain which buyer it appeals to (gift buyer, self-buyer, occasion buyer)
- Suggest a time of day / lighting that fits the vibe

Variety is the point — don't repeat the same "white wall + plant" setup 15 times.

P07-003 — Color Story / Aesthetic Board Prompt

Use when: Planning the visual mood for your entire shop.

My shop brand vibe: [e.g., "calm, modern, neutral" / "warm, vintage, maximalist" / "min imal, premium, monochrome"]

Generate a Pinterest-style aesthetic board description that includes:
- 5 color swatches (give hex codes if possible)
- 5 texture / material keywords
- 3 lighting descriptors
- 4 prop style keywords (e.g., "raw wood, vintage books, dried florals, brass")
- 2 "anti-aesthetic" rules (what to AVOID — e.g., "no plastic props", "no fluorescent li ght")

This becomes the rule sheet I check every photo against before posting.

P07-004 — AI Image Generation Prompt for a Hero Shot

Use when: Using Midjourney / DALL-E / Flux to generate a hero image for your product (digital products, printables, design assets).

Product I'm marketing: [PASTE]
Visual style: [e.g., "minimalist product photography, soft natural light, neutral linen background, slight shadow, shallow depth of field, editorial feel"]

Write a detailed Midjourney / DALL-E prompt for a hero image that:
- Describes the product clearly so AI can render it
- Specifies lighting, angle, background, and mood
- Includes photography terms: "85mm lens", "f/2.8", "soft shadows", "product photography"
- Avoids common AI tells: text, watermarks, weird hands, over-saturated colors

For Midjourney, also suggest --ar and --style parameters. For DALL-E, suggest image size.

Note: Real products should use real photos. AI-generated hero shots work best for digital products / mockups / abstract imagery.

P07-005 — DIY Mockup Description (No Photoshop, No Paid Tools)

Use when: You need product mockups but don't have Photoshop or paid mockup generators.

Product: [PASTE]
Mockup type needed: [e.g., "iPhone case on a hand", "tote bag on a hanger", "print in a frame on a wall", "mug on a desk"]

List 3 ways to create this mockup for free:
1. Print-on-demand service mockup (e.g., Printful, Printify) — describe the workflow
2. Free Canva mockup template — describe how to find and use it
3. DIY photo with household items — describe the exact setup (camera angle, props, lighting)

For each option, note:
- Cost: free / paid
- Skill needed: beginner / intermediate / advanced
- Time: X minutes
- Realism: 1-5 stars

End with my recommendation for fastest, most realistic mockup.

P07-006 — Background Variety Generator

Use when: Etsy's algorithm penalizes listings with identical backgrounds across photos.

Product: [PASTE]
Current backgrounds I use: [list — e.g., "white wall, marble counter, wood floor"]

Generate 12 DIFFERENT background ideas I can shoot against or in:
- 3 fabric / textile backgrounds (specific colors / patterns)
- 3 surface backgrounds (specific materials — slate, concrete, raw wood, marble, tile)
- 3 natural backgrounds (specific locations — windowsill, garden, kitchen, bookshelf)
- 3 contextual backgrounds (specific scenes — coffee shop desk, bathroom vanity, office shelf)

Each should fit my brand vibe: [paste vibe].

Mix-and-match these so no two listings on my shop have the same background combo.

P07-007 — "What's Wrong With This Photo" Diagnostic

Use when: You have a product photo that isn't converting and you need a critique.

Describe the photo in detail (or paste it if AI vision is available):
[Describe: lighting, angle, background, what's in frame, what the buyer sees]

Critique the photo in 5 specific bullets:
1. Composition issue (or strength)
2. Lighting issue (or strength)
3. Background / styling issue (or strength)
4. Trust issue (does it answer the buyer's question?)
5. Conversion issue (does it make the buyer want to click?)

Then suggest 3 specific fixes I can implement in 30 minutes or less. Be specific — not "improve lighting" but "shoot at 4pm by the window with a white poster board as a fill on the left side."

Use when: Etsy image alt-text helps with both Etsy SEO AND Google Image search. Most sellers leave it blank.

Product photo description: [describe what's in the image]
Product: [PASTE]
Target search keyword: [keyword]

Write alt-text for this photo that:
- Is 100-160 characters (Google's preferred length)
- Describes the image accurately (so screen readers work)
- Includes the target keyword naturally
- Names the product type, color, material, and use case if visible
- Doesn't stuff keywords (writes like a real description)

Example output: "Handmade ceramic planter in matte sage green, holding a small pothos pl ant on a wooden shelf. Minimalist home decor for plant lovers."

P07-009 — Pinterest Pin Design Description (For the Same Product)

Use when: You want to make a Pinterest pin that drives traffic to your Etsy listing.

Write a Pinterest pin design description with:
- Layout (vertical 1000x1500 px): where the photo sits, where text overlays go
- 1 hook text overlay (max 7 words, readable on mobile): suggest 3 options
- 1 small CTA overlay at the bottom: suggest 3 options
- Color palette that matches my brand: [paste]
- Font style: [paste — e.g., "modern serif" / "casual handwritten"]

Then write the alt-text for the pin (Pinterest indexes alt-text for SEO).

This pin should be eye-catching enough to stop the scroll but not so busy it looks like a clickbait ad.

P07-010 — Thumbnail / First-Photo Optimizer

Use when: Etsy's search results show only the first photo. This is your click-through lever.

Current first photo: [describe]
What this photo needs to do: get a buyer to click my listing over 9 others on the search page

Critique my current first photo in 3 bullets. Then suggest:
- 3 alternative first photo concepts (specific setups, not vague ideas)
- 1 "above the fold" rule: what must be visible in the first 1 second of viewing
- 1 mobile-first rule: how this photo needs to look on a 6-inch phone screen

Buyers on mobile scroll FAST. The first photo wins or loses the click in under a second.

Use when: Buyers complain "it looked bigger / smaller than I expected."

Product: [PASTE]
Common size confusion: [e.g., "buyers think it's bigger" / "buyers think it's smaller" / "buyers don't understand the proportions"]

Describe 3 scale-comparison photo setups:
1. In a human hand (whose hand — large male / average female / small female)
2. Next to a common object (which object — coffee cup, iPhone, ruler, coin)
3. In a real use context (worn / held / placed where the buyer would use it)

For each, describe the exact angle, framing, and which "aha" reaction it triggers in the buyer.

Scale confusion is the #1 reason for "item not as described" returns. Solve it visually.

Use when: Buyers complain "the color is different in person." Critical for any colored product.

Product color I need to show accurately: [PASTE — e.g., "sage green", "dusty rose", "warm walnut"]
Color complaint buyers leave: [paste their words]

Describe a 3-step color-accuracy photo setup:
1. Lighting: which light source shows this color most accurately (avoid yellow lights, fluorescent, mixed)
2. White balance: how to set it on phone or camera (specific setting or app)
3. Reference: what to put next to the product so the buyer has a color anchor (white card, neutral prop, etc.)

Then write a sentence I can add to my description: "[Color] may vary slightly due to screen settings — see the in-hand photo for the truest representation."

Most "wrong color" complaints are actually photo lighting, not bad products.

Use when: Q4, Valentine's, Mother's Day, etc. — your hero shot needs to feel timely.

Product: [PASTE]
Upcoming season: [e.g., "fall 2026" / "Christmas" / "spring" / "Mother's Day"]

Generate 5 photo theme concepts for this season. For each:
- Scene description (specific — props, setting, mood)
- Color palette shifts from my usual (e.g., "swap linen for velvet in December")
- 1 unique prop idea that signals the season without being tacky
- Hook text for social posts using this photo

Goal: keep my shop looking fresh + on-trend without redoing every listing.

P07-014 — "Packaging Photo" That Justifies the Price

Use when: Premium products need packaging that buyers will photograph + share on social.

Product: [PASTE]
Price point: $[X] (where packaging matters most: $30+)
My current packaging: [describe]

Design 3 packaging concepts that are photogenic. For each:
- Box / wrap / tissue: specific materials and colors
- Personal touch: handwritten note, branded sticker, custom stamp, ribbon, dried flower, etc.
- How it looks when unboxed (the moment the buyer opens it)
- A 1-sentence description of the aesthetic

Then suggest a "packaging reveal" TikTok/Reels concept that drives shares.

P07-015 — Photo Description for Etsy Video / Reel

Use when: Etsy listings accept short videos. Buyers who watch a video convert at much higher rates.

Product: [PASTE]
Video length: [15s / 30s]

Write a shot-by-shot script for a 15-second Etsy listing video:
- Shot 1 (0-3s): the hook — what the buyer sees first
- Shot 2 (3-7s): the reveal — turn it, hold it, show detail
- Shot 3 (7-12s): in use — styled scene or in-hand
- Shot 4 (12-15s): close-up + soft CTA text overlay

For each shot:
- Camera movement (static / pan / tilt / zoom)
- Text overlay (specific words)
- Audio suggestion (trending sound type, not specific track)

Also write a one-line alt-text for the video file when uploaded.

Section 08 — Product Research & Validation (15 prompts)

Most Etsy sellers build what they LIKE, then wonder why it doesn't sell. These prompts force the discipline of validating demand BEFORE you spend 3 weeks making a product nobody wants. They also cover how to spot trends early and decide what to make next.

P08-001 — Validate a Product Idea Before You Make It

Use when: You have an idea and want to know if it's worth the time.

Product idea: [PASTE]
Target buyer: [describe]
Price point I want: $[X]

Walk me through a 10-point demand validation:

1. Etsy search evidence: What 3 search terms would my buyer type? Estimate monthly E tsy search volume (Low / Medium / High) for each.

2. Competitor count: How many similar listings exist on Etsy? (Roughly — top 50 resu lts in the category.)

3. Competitor revenue signal: Do the top 5 competitors have 100+ favorites / sales?
Yes = proven demand.

4. Review mining: What are buyers saying in competitor reviews? Specifically, what's the #1 thing they wish was different?

5. Sub-niche gap: Is there a specific angle no competitor is owning (e.g., "for left -handed people", "for [specific buyer]")?

6. Pricing sweet spot: What price range are top competitors charging? Is my price in the same band, or am I trying to under/over-price?

7. Production difficulty: 1-10, how hard is this to make well? (10 = requires years of skill)

8. Shipping complexity: 1-10, how hard is this to ship safely? (10 = fragile, oversi zed, expensive)

9. Repeat purchase potential: Will buyers come back? (Consumables yes, jewelry no.)

10. Verdict: BUILD / PIVOT / SKIP — with a 2-sentence reason.

If BUILD, suggest 3 immediate next steps.

P08-002 — Find a Niche Within an Oversaturated Category

Use when: You want to enter a popular category but need an angle.

Big category: [e.g., "personalized jewelry", "wedding signs", "t-shirts", "candles"]

Find 10 underserved SUB-NICHES within this category. For each:
- The sub-niche in 2-4 words ("personalized jewelry for nurses", "wedding signs for elop ements")
- Why it's underserved (no / few competitors, OR competitors are weak)
- The buyer persona (who specifically searches this)
- Entry barrier (1-10)
- Estimated market size (Small / Medium / Large)

Then recommend the BEST sub-niche to enter first based on: lowest competition + clearest buyer + best margin.

P08-003 — Trend Forecasting (What Will Sell in 3-6 Months)

Use when: You want to plan inventory / designs ahead of the curve, not chase trends that are already saturated.

Time horizon: [3 months / 6 months / 12 months ahead]
My product category: [PASTE]
Current trends I'm seeing: [list 3-5 if you can]

Analyze the cultural / seasonal / aesthetic signals that will drive demand in [time hori zon]:
- Upcoming cultural moments (movies, TV shows, viral aesthetics, sports events)
- Pinterest Predicts 2026 trends (search the latest annual report)
- TikTok aesthetic waves currently building
- Color / material trends from fashion forecasting
- Etsy seasonal search spikes from previous years

Then suggest 5 product directions that ride these waves:
- Specific product concept (not category — actual idea)
- Why it's riding a wave
- When to launch (specific month)
- Risk: what could make this flop

P08-004 — Competitor Deep-Dive (One Competitor's Whole Strategy)

Use when: You find a competitor doing well and want to learn their playbook.

Competitor shop name: [PASTE]
Competitor URL: [PASTE if available]

Analyze:
1. Their top 5 listings — what do they have in common? (Style, price, audience, photo style)
2. Their photo aesthetic — describe it in 3 sentences
3. Their titles — what keywords appear repeatedly?
4. Their pricing tiers — entry / mid / premium?
5. Their about / story page — what's their brand positioning?
6. Their customer service style — based on review responses
7. Their repeat-buyer signals — are people reviewing them multiple times?

Synthesize into "Their Winning Formula" in 3 bullets.

Then suggest 3 ways I can do what they do, differently (not a clone).

P08-005 — Review Mining (What Buyers Actually Complain About)

Use when: You want to find product gaps by reading what buyers are unhappy about.

Top 3 competitors in my category: [PASTE shop names]
What I want to know: what buyers WISH these products did differently

Mine their 1-star and 2-star reviews for:
- Recurring complaint #1 (with 2-3 exact quotes)
- Recurring complaint #2 (with 2-3 exact quotes)
- Recurring complaint #3 (with 2-3 exact quotes)

Then suggest 3 product improvements that would directly solve these complaints.

If I can build a product that fixes what competitors get wrong, I win on differentiation even in a saturated category.

P08-006 — Etsy Search Suggestion Mining (Free Keyword Research)

Use when: You don't have eRank / Marmalead and need free keyword data.

Seed keyword: [e.g., "personalized cutting board"]

Walk me through how to mine Etsy's own search suggestions for free:

1. Type [seed keyword] in Etsy search. List the autocomplete suggestions.
2. Type each letter of the alphabet after [seed keyword] and list new suggestions.
3. Scroll to the bottom of search results — list "Related searches."
4. Look at top 10 listing titles — what phrases appear in 3+ titles?

Compile the results into:
- 10 broad keywords (high volume, high competition)
- 10 long-tail keywords (low volume, low competition)
- 5 buyer-language phrases (from review mining)
- 5 seasonal modifiers (gift, holiday, occasion)

These become my tag pool.

P08-007 — Pricing Strategy Prompt

Use when: You don't know what to charge and need a defensible number.

Product: [PASTE]
Materials cost: $[X]
Time to make (per unit): [X hours]
My target hourly rate: $[X]/hour
Competitor price range: $[X] to $[Y]

Calculate my minimum viable price (materials + time × hourly rate).

Then suggest 3 pricing strategies:
1. Cost-plus: Price = materials + labor + 30% margin. Predict conversion.
2. Competitor-anchored: Price at the [25th / 50th / 75th] percentile of competitors.
 Predict conversion.
3. Premium (1.5-2x competitors): Justify higher price with brand, packaging, story.
Predict conversion.

For each strategy, predict: how this price affects conversion rate AND total revenue.

Then recommend ONE strategy with reasoning.

P08-008 — "Should I Make This as a Variant or a New Listing?"

Use when: You have an existing product and want to add a color / size / variation.

Existing product: [PASTE]
Existing listing URL: [PASTE if available]
New variant I'm considering: [e.g., "new color: forest green", "new size: large", "new m aterial: leather instead of canvas"]

Help me decide:

Make it a VARIANT (under the same listing) when:
- The photo can show it in the same hero shot
- The price is the same
- The target buyer is the same
- It's a simple option like color or size

Make it a NEW LISTING when:
- The photo would be totally different
- The price differs by 50%+
- The target buyer is different
- It's a fundamentally different use case

Apply this to my situation. Make the call (VARIANT or NEW LISTING) and explain why. If N
EW LISTING, suggest 2-3 variations that would also work as new listings.

Etsy rewards new listings with fresh traffic — but you don't want to dilute your shop wi th too many near-duplicates.

P08-009 — Bundle / Set Strategy

Use when: You have individual products and want to know if bundling would sell more.

Product 1: [PASTE] — Price: $[X]
Product 2: [PASTE] — Price: $[Y]
Product 3: [PASTE, optional] — Price: $[Z]

Should I bundle these? Generate:
1. 3 bundle concepts:
   - Bundle A: themed gift set (e.g., "the new homeowner bundle")
   - Bundle B: completion set (everything they need for X use case)
   - Bundle C: tier upgrade (basic + premium + deluxe)

For each bundle:
- Bundle price (with a 10-15% discount vs. buying separately)
- New listing or variant?
- Photo concept (single shot vs. flat lay vs. styled scene)
- Target buyer shift (does bundling change who buys?)

2. Verdict: Which bundle (if any) is worth building first? Why?

Bundles increase AOV but require new photos and listings. Don't bundle just to bundle.

P08-010 — Wholesale vs. Retail Decision

Use when: A boutique / event planner / corporate buyer has asked about wholesale.

My current product: [PASTE]
Retail price: $[X]
Materials + labor cost per unit: $[Y]
Whether I can scale production: [yes / limited / no]

Write a wholesale analysis:

1. My minimum viable wholesale price: $[Y × 2.5] (typical 2.5x markup minimum for wholesale)

2. Common wholesale terms in my category: [e.g., "MOQ 12 units, NET 30 payment, 50% upfront"]

3. 3 pros of doing this wholesale order:
   - Predictable revenue
   - [etc.]

4. 3 cons of doing this wholesale order:
   - Lower margin per unit
   - [etc.]

5. Verdict: Should I take this wholesale order, counter-offer, or decline?

If counter-offer: suggest specific terms (higher price, smaller MOQ, faster payment, etc.).

P08-011 — "What's Etsy Actually Telling Me?" — Analytics Decoder

Use when: You have Etsy Stats data and don't know what it means.

My Etsy Stats data:
- Visits (last 30 days): [X]
- Orders (last 30 days): [X]
- Conversion rate: [X%]
- Top traffic sources: [list — Etsy search / Pinterest / direct / etc.]
- Best-selling listing: [name + sales count]
- Worst-performing listing: [name + visits]

Interpret:
1. Is my conversion rate good, bad, or normal for my category? (Rough Etsy average is 1-3%.)
2. Is my traffic volume healthy or am I under-discovered?
3. Which listing should I learn from and replicate (the best-seller)?
4. Which listing should I kill, refresh, or rewrite?
5. What's the ONE metric I should focus on improving this month?

Most sellers watch visits obsessively. Conversion rate is what actually makes money.

P08-012 — Pinterest Demand Signal (For Etsy Sellers)

Use when: Pinterest is your top traffic source and you want to validate a product there before Etsy.

Product idea: [PASTE]
Target Pinterest keyword: [keyword]

Validate Pinterest demand:

1. Search [keyword] on Pinterest. Describe what I see in the first 30 pins (aesthetic, format, who's pinning).
2. Are there 50+ pins per top keyword, or 5? (Volume signal.)
3. Are pin descriptions keyword-rich or vibe-only? (Algorithm signal.)
4. Are the same creators / shops pinning repeatedly? (Niche ownership signal.)
5. What 5 related searches does Pinterest suggest at the bottom?

Verdict: STRONG DEMAND / MODERATE / WEAK — with reasoning.

Then suggest 3 pin concepts for my product that match what's already working on Pinterest in this category.

P08-013 — "Why Did Competitor X Suddenly Take Off?"

Use when: You notice a competitor had a breakout month and want to learn what they did.

Competitor: [PASTE shop name]
Their recent growth signal: [e.g., "went from 50 to 800 sales in 3 months", "appeared on Etsy's front page", "viral on TikTok"]

Investigate:
1. What changed in their listings 1-3 months before the spike? (New photos? New title format? New product?)
2. Did they launch a new product line? (Check their shop's "all listings" tab sorted by date.)
3. Did they post on social / get featured in a publication? (Search their name on Google + social.)
4. Did they change pricing or run a sale?
5. Did they expand to a new market (Pinterest, TikTok, Etsy Ads)?

Summarize the most likely cause in 3 sentences.

Then suggest 2 things I can borrow (not copy) from their playbook.

P08-014 — Niche Saturation Score

Use when: You want to know if a niche is "blue ocean" (low competition) or "red ocean" (saturated).

Niche I want to enter: [PASTE]
Search keyword: [keyword]

Score the niche 1-10 across 5 dimensions:

1. Competitor density (1 = 5 competitors, 10 = 5,000): how many listings rank for this keyword?
2. Top-seller dominance (1 = small shops, 10 = 1-2 giants own page 1): how concentrated is the top of search?
3. Price race to the bottom (1 = stable pricing, 10 = pure commodity pricing): are competitors undercutting each other?
4. Review velocity (1 = reviews trickle in, 10 = top sellers get 10+ reviews/day): is the niche on fire?
5. Differentiation ease (1 = anyone can copy, 10 = hard to replicate): can a new seller stand out?

Total score: [X/50]

- 0-15: BLUE OCEAN. Enter now.
- 16-30: COMPETITIVE BUT BEATABLE. Enter with a clear differentiator.
- 31-40: SATURATED. Need a sub-niche angle.
- 41-50: RED OCEAN. Skip unless you have a unique unfair advantage.

My recommendation based on the score.

P08-015 — "What Should I Make Next?" Decision Framework

Use when: You're between 3 product ideas and don't know which to build.

Idea A: [PASTE] — Build time: [X days], Materials cost: $[X], Estimated margin: $[X]
Idea B: [PASTE] — Build time: [X days], Materials cost: $[X], Estimated margin: $[X]
Idea C: [PASTE] — Build time: [X days], Materials cost: $[X], Estimated margin: $[X]

Score each idea 1-10 on:
1. Demand strength: Evidence buyers want this (search volume, competitor sales, tren d)
2. Margin: Profit per hour of work
3. Repeat purchase potential: Will buyers come back?
4. Production scalability: Can I make 100 of these without burnout?
5. Differentiation: Can I stand out vs. competitors?
6. Trend timing: Is this growing, peaking, or declining?

Total scores: [A: X, B: Y, C: Z]

Recommend which to build FIRST, and what to build NEXT after that.

Then suggest what to SKIP and why.

Don't build all three. Build the winner, validate, then build the next.

Section 09 — Troubleshooting, Diagnosis & Strategy (15 prompts)

The prompts nobody else ships. Most prompt packs give you templates for the happy path. These handle the moments every Etsy seller actually lives through: the listing that gets traffic but no sales, the title that ranks but doesn't convert, the customer who's furious, the shop that's been quiet for months. This is the section that turns a list of prompts into a system.

P09-001 — Diagnose a Listing That's Getting Traffic but No Sales

Use when: "My listing has 200 views and 0 orders." This is the #1 Etsy seller complaint.

Listing details:
- Title: [PASTE]
- Tags: [PASTE 13 tags]
- First photo: [describe]
- Price: $[X]
- Visits in the last 30 days: [X]
- Orders in the last 30 days: 0

Diagnose, in order of likelihood, what's killing the conversion:

1. Click-through problem (right buyer, wrong hook): First photo doesn't match the se arch intent. Suggest 3 specific photo changes.

2. Price problem: Listing is being shopped but the price is the barrier. Suggest whe ther to test lower price, add value (bundle), or reframe the value (description fix).

3. Objection problem: Buyer has a question that the listing doesn't answer. Identify the #1 unasked question.

4. Trust problem: Listing lacks social proof / details / professionalism. Identify t he weakest trust signal.

5. Title mismatch: Buyers are clicking but the product isn't what they expected. Rew rite the title to better match the photo + description.

End with: my single highest-leverage fix this week.

P09-002 — Diagnose a Listing That's Ranked but Buried (Page 5+)

Use when: You know your listing exists for a search but it's invisible because it ranks page 5+.

Listing details:
- Title: [PASTE]
- Tags: [PASTE 13 tags]
- Category: [PASTE]
- Attributes filled in: [list which Etsy attributes you've set]
- Current search rank estimate for [target keyword]: [page 3-5 / page 5+ / unknown]

Etsy's ranking factors (2026):
- Title relevance + click-through rate
- Tag relevance + listing quality score
- Conversion rate history
- Customer experience signals (reviews, message response rate)
- Listing freshness (recently renewed/updated listings get a small bump)
- LLM-based matching (Etsy now uses LLMs to match search intent to listings, not just ke yword matching)

Diagnose what's most likely hurting your rank in 2026:
- Title issue (weak primary keyword, no long-tail)
- Tag issue (irrelevant, stuffed, single-word)
- Listing quality issue (no attributes, weak photos, short description)
- Conversion history issue (low historical sales for this listing)
- Freshness issue (listing hasn't been touched in months)

Give me a 3-step priority plan to climb from page 5 to page 1 in 30 days.

P09-003 — Diagnose Why Sales Suddenly Stopped

Use when: You were selling fine, then sales flatlined. No obvious external reason.

My shop data:
- Average sales over the last 6 months: [X orders/month]
- Sales in the last 30 days: [X orders]
- What changed: [paste anything you can think of — new listings, price changes, photo up dates, Etsy Ads toggled, season change]

Possible causes, ranked by likelihood:
1. Seasonality: Some categories are dead in [current month]. Expected decline? Or an omaly?
2. Etsy algorithm update: Etsy re-weights search factors every few months. Did a cat egory shift hurt me?
3. Competitor pressure: A new competitor launched or a top competitor ran a sale.
4. Listing freshness: My listings went stale and Etsy deprioritized them.
5. Customer experience dip: Late shipments / unanswered messages / returns spiking.
6. Pinterest / social traffic drop: A traffic source went away.

Give me a diagnostic checklist to identify which one it is, then a recovery plan for the top 2 most likely causes.

Most sales drops are NOT random — they're explainable once you look.

P09-004 — Rewrite a Title After a 2026 Etsy Algorithm Update

Use when: Etsy keeps tweaking their search. What worked in 2024 doesn't always work in 2026.

Current title: [PASTE]
When it was written: [date]
Sales since then: [trend — flat / declining / dead]

Etsy's 2026 search changes that may be affecting my listing:
- LLM-based intent matching (Etsy now uses LLMs to understand what the buyer MEANS, not just what they typed)
- Customer experience signals ranked higher (response time, on-time shipping rate, review quality)
- Mobile-first ranking (44.5% of sales are mobile — titles that don't render well on a 6-inch screen lose)
- Listing quality score (Etsy scores listings on completeness — attributes filled, photos count, description length)
- ChatGPT referral traffic (20% of Etsy's referral traffic now comes from ChatGPT — listings need to be readable by AI agents)

Rewrite my title so it:
- Works for both keyword-matching AND LLM intent-matching (so it ranks for "gift for chef" even if the title doesn't say "gift" verbatim)
- Renders well on mobile (front-load the strongest phrase in the first 40 chars)
- Includes natural language a buyer would actually use in a ChatGPT-style question ("best [product] for [buyer]")
- 140 characters max

Then suggest 3 LLM-style queries a buyer might use to find this product, and verify my new title matches each.

P09-005 — Add Etsy's New AI Compliance Language to a Listing

Use when: Etsy's October 2026 AI policy requires specific disclosure language for AI-assisted listings. Most sellers are out of compliance.

Product: [PASTE]
How I use AI in this listing: [e.g., "I used ChatGPT to brainstorm tag variations, but I edited everything personally" / "I used AI to draft the description, then rewrote it in my voice" / "AI helped me generate 5 title options"]

Etsy's 2026 AI policy requires:
- Disclosure if AI materially contributed to listing content
- Accurate representation (don't claim AI-made is handmade)
- No misleading claims about the product's origin

Write the AI disclosure statement I should add to my listing description. It should:
- Be 1-2 sentences (Etsy buyers don't want to read a wall of legal text)
- Be honest (what I actually did, not what sounds best)
- Not scare the buyer (frame it as "I used AI to brainstorm, then personally crafted every word")
- Be compliant (cover the use case I described above)

Then suggest where to place this statement in my description (top? bottom? as a separate line?).

Note: If I only used AI for tagging help (not title/description), disclosure may not be required. Verify Etsy's current policy at etsy.com/legal.

P09-006 — Fix a Listing That Got a Bad Review

Use when: A single 1-3 star review is hurting your conversion and you want to fix the underlying issue without begging the buyer to remove it.

Review text: [PASTE]
Product: [PASTE]
What the buyer actually wanted: [my honest interpretation]

Write a fix plan:
1. Acknowledge privately: A DM response that takes responsibility and offers resolution (template provided).
2. Acknowledge publicly: A short, non-defensive review reply (template provided).
3. Fix the listing: What needs to change in the description, photos, or product to prevent this complaint from the NEXT buyer.
4. Fix the product (if needed): If the complaint is legitimate, what's the actual product improvement?

Then suggest: should I reach out to other buyers who left similar complaints and offer them the same fix? (Prevents review escalation.)

Goal: turn a 1-star review into a quiet win that future buyers can't see.

P09-007 — Diagnose a Title That's Long but Not Ranking

Use when: You crammed keywords into a 140-char title but it's still invisible.

My title: [PASTE]
My tag set: [PASTE]
My category: [paste]
Sales: [X in the last 30 days / 0]

Diagnose what's wrong in 3 bullets:
1. Is the title actually too stuffed? (Etsy de-duplicates and may be ignoring the redund ant parts.)
2. Is the front-loaded keyword actually a high-volume search? (Some "keywords" nobody ac tually types.)
3. Is the LLM intent-matching ignoring my title because the description contradicts it?

Rewrite the title with 3 different approaches:
- Approach A: minimal (let the description and tags do the work)
- Approach B: balanced (front-load + natural flow)
- Approach C: keyword-rich (in case my niche rewards density)

Predict which approach will rank best for my specific product.

P09-008 — Etsy Ads Optimization Audit

Use when: You're running Etsy Ads and don't know if they're actually working.

My Etsy Ads data:
- Daily budget: $[X]
- Clicks yesterday: [X]
- CTR: [X%]
- ROAS (return on ad spend): [X]
- Cost per order: $[X]
- Top-performing listing: [name]
- Worst-performing listing: [name]

Diagnose:
1. Profitability: At current ROAS, am I making money or losing money on ads? (Accoun t for Etsy Ads fee + listing fees + materials + time.)
2. Listing selection: Should I be running ads on ALL my listings, or only the top 1-3?
3. Keyword targeting: Etsy Ads lets you add negative keywords. List 3 keywords I sho uld exclude (low-intent clicks).
4. Budget pacing: Is my budget being fully spent? (If not, my listings may not be el igible often.)

Give me a "fix or kill" verdict: should I keep running ads, change my settings, or pause entirely?

Etsy Ads work for ~30% of shops. The other 70% lose money. Be honest about which one you are.

P09-009 — Convert a Browser Into a Buyer With One Description Tweak

Use when: Your traffic looks healthy but conversion is stuck around 1%.

Listing details:
- Current conversion rate: [X%]
- Current description: [PASTE]
- Price: $[X]
- Reviews: [X count, X average rating]

The 5 most common reasons a browser doesn't buy:
1. They have an unanswered question (sizing, materials, shipping time, customization opt ions)
2. The description doesn't justify the price
3. They don't trust you (no reviews, weak photos, no detail)
4. They were browsing, not buying (wrong intent — your traffic is misaligned)
5. They're comparing you to a competitor and losing

Diagnose which one is killing MY conversion. Then suggest ONE specific description tweak (not 5) that would have the highest impact.

Don't rewrite the whole description. Find the one sentence that, if changed, would lift conversion the most.

P09-010 — Save a Shop That's Been Quiet for 6+ Months

Use when: You haven't been actively selling. You're coming back. Where do you start?

My shop status:
- Last order: [date, e.g., "8 months ago"]
- Number of active listings: [X]
- Reviews: [X count, X average]
- Reason I went quiet: [e.g., burnout, life event, no sales, other priorities]

Write a 30-day "comeback plan":

Week 1: Audit
- Which listings still fit my goals?
- Which listings are dead weight?
- Do I need to update any product photos that look outdated now?

Week 2: Refresh
- Update titles + tags on top 5 listings (Etsy gives fresh listings a small boost)
- Rewrite the worst-performing description
- Update the shop banner / About section

Week 3: Re-engage
- Send a "we're back" email to past buyers (if I have permission)
- Post on social that I'm restocking
- DM regulars personally

Week 4: Launch
- Release 1-2 NEW listings (new listings get the most search love)
- Run a small Etsy Ads test ($5/day) on your best listing

Give me a daily action plan for the 30 days, max 1 hour per day.

P09-011 — Handle the "I Found It Cheaper on Amazon" Objection (Live)

Use when: You're in a DM with a buyer who wants a discount or is comparing.

Buyer's message: [PASTE]
Their comparison: [paste what they said about the cheaper option]
What makes my version different: [e.g., handmade, materials, customization, my story]

Write a 3-sentence DM reply that:
1. Acknowledges they have a choice (don't be defensive)
2. States the 1 most important difference (specific, not generic)
3. Closes with a graceful "your call" — no begging

Then a second option (more assertive, in case you want to push for the sale) that:
- Names 1 thing the cheap version CAN'T do that mine can
- Offers a small perk (free upgrade, fast shipping) if they order today
- Doesn't cave on price

Both options in different tones. Pick the one that fits your brand.

P09-012 — Decide Whether to Run a Sale (And If So, How)

Use when: Sales are slow and you're tempted to discount. Most Etsy sellers discount wrong.

My shop situation:
- Average monthly orders: [X]
- Current month orders: [X]
- Reason for the dip: [paste — e.g., seasonality, traffic drop, no specific reason]
- Average price: $[X]
- Margin per order: $[X]

Before running a sale, answer these 3 questions:
1. Will discounting ATTRACT new buyers, or just give existing fans a cheaper price?
2. Is my conversion problem (price?) or my traffic problem (visibility?) — discounting d oesn't fix traffic.
3. What's the smallest discount that would move the needle? (Often 10%, not 25%.)

If I should run a sale:
- Suggested discount %: [X]
- Suggested duration: [X days]
- Suggested anchor: ["Sitewide" vs "Category X" vs "Loyal customers only"]
- Suggested CTA copy: [3 options]

If I shouldn't run a sale, suggest 3 non-discount ways to drive orders this month.

Discounting trains buyers to wait for sales. Don't start what you can't stop.

P09-013 — Diagnose Low Click-Through Rate in Etsy Search

Use when: Your listing ranks but buyers don't click it. CTR matters more than rank.

Listing details:
- Title: [PASTE]
- First photo: [describe]
- Price: $[X]
- Estimated CTR: [X% or "unknown"]
- Visits / impressions ratio: [X / X if known]

CTR killers in Etsy search:
1. First photo looks low-quality compared to neighbors (buyers skip it)
2. Price looks too high for the visual quality shown
3. Title doesn't match the photo (buyer confused, bounces)
4. No "social proof" visible (no review count badge, no favorite count)

Diagnose which one is most likely hurting MY listing. Then suggest:
- 1 photo change (specific — not "better photos")
- 1 title tweak (specific — front-load a different keyword)
- 1 thumbnail-level adjustment (e.g., text overlay, color, contrast)

Etsy tracks CTR and uses it to decide whether to keep showing you at your rank. Fix the click and the sales follow.

P09-014 — Annual Shop Strategy Review

Use when: End of year (or any quarter-end) — you want a strategic reset, not just tactical fixes.

Year/quarter summary:
- Total orders: [X]
- Total revenue: $[X]
- Top-selling product: [name]
- Worst-selling product: [name]
- Most surprising win: [PASTE]
- Most frustrating miss: [PASTE]
- Time spent on Etsy per week: [X hours]

Answer these 5 strategic questions:

1. What doubled my revenue? Which 1-2 actions had the highest leverage? (E.g., "switching to flat lays" or "starting Pinterest" or "raising prices 20%".)

2. What wasted my time? Which 1-2 activities produced nothing? (Stop doing these next year.)

3. Where am I underpriced? Which products have the lowest margin but the highest demand? (Raise the price.)

4. Where am I overinvested? Which products take huge time but produce tiny revenue? (Kill, simplify, or reprice.)

5. What 1 thing would 10x my revenue next year if I figured it out? Don't answer this with "more listings" — answer with the SYSTEMIC lever (e.g., "Pinterest traffic" or "Etsy Ads on top 3 listings" or "stop undercutting myself on price").

End with: my 3 priorities for the next 90 days, in order.

P09-015 — "Should I Stay or Should I Quit?" Decision Framework

Use when: You're burned out, sales are slow, you're wondering if it's worth continuing.

My Etsy situation:
- Months selling: [X]
- Total revenue lifetime: $[X]
- Average monthly revenue last 6 months: $[X]
- Hours per week I'm currently putting in: [X]
- My hourly rate if I divide revenue by hours: $[X]
- Reason I'm thinking of quitting: [PASTE]
- One thing I haven't tried yet: [PASTE]

Run a "Stay or Quit" diagnostic:

1. Is the business viable? Hourly rate should at least match minimum wage, ideally 2-3x. If below, the issue is pricing or conversion — fixable.

2. Is the business growing or shrinking? Compare last 3 months vs. previous 3. Trend matters more than absolute number.

3. Have I tried the obvious fixes? Title refresh, photos, Pinterest, Etsy Ads. If not, quitting is premature.

4. What's the real reason I want to quit? Burnout (fixable with boundaries), no sales (fixable with strategy), lost interest (might be a "quit"), or external life pressure (pause, not quit).

5. Pause vs. quit: Could I move to "maintenance mode" — keep the shop open, no new listings, only fulfill existing orders? Most sellers feel better with this option than closing entirely.

Give me your honest verdict: STAY AND FIX X / PAUSE FOR 90 DAYS / QUIT — with reasoning.

Then if STAY: the 1 highest-leverage thing to do this week.
